

RUSS MAKE PROGRESS IN CARPATHIAN PASSES

ANNOUNCE CAPTURE OF IMPORTANT STATION ON HIGH MOUNTAINS

Czar's Forces Are Also Making Progress in Northern Poland—Comparative Calm Prevails on Western Front—U-31 Sinks Two Steamers off England's West Coast

London, April 5.—(10:50 p. m.)—The attention of the public for the time being is directed toward the great struggle for the Carpathian passes where the Russians apparently are making very steady progress despite the obstinate resistance offered by the Austrian and German troops.

Announce Capture of Cisma.

The Russians are on the Hungarian side of both the Dukla and Lupkow passes and, with the aid of continual reinforcements, are gaining the heights which dominate the Czech pass. Even the Austrian official report admits that fighting is now taking place in the Laboreza valley, which is south of the Lupkow pass, while the Russians tonight announce the capture of Cisma, an important station on the high mountain between Lupkow and Uzkok Passes, where they captured a great stock of war munitions and provisions.

The Russians also are advancing from Dukla Pass on Bartfeld, which is at the head of the line of railway running south into Hungary, and fighting not far from Mezohoraz, another important railroad head. On Saturday and Sunday they captured in the Carpathians upward of three thousand prisoners. They also claim another success in Bukovina and the capture of another thousand prisoners while the Austrians also assert that they repulsed a Russian force which attempted to cross the Dniester river.

Make Progress in Poland.

The Russians also are making progress in northern Poland, a German official report telling of the repulse of a Russian attack on Marlampol, which is considerably west of the region that a few days ago was in the possession of the Germans. So far as the western front is concerned, comparative calm continues, the French having little to report, while the Germans announce the repulse of French attacks in the Voivre and Argonne regions and of a Belgian attempt to recover ground which they recently lost in Flanders.

The former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau now under the Turkish flag with the new names of Sultan Selim and Midirli, respectively, have again been out in the Black Sea and exchanged shots with the Russian fleet off the Crimean coast but probably confronted by superior forces, made their way back to the Bosphorus. The German submarine U-31 has replaced the U-28 off the west coast of England and during the day reports were received of the sinking by this underwater boat of the Russian bark Hermes and the Steamer Olivine, both small vessels.

Bulgarians Explain Raid.

The Bulgarians have explained that the recent raid into Serbia was the work of rebels and have promised to disarm them when they reach the Bulgarian frontier.

The King of England has now made a definite pledge to prohibit the use of alcoholic liquors in the royal households, a self-denying ordinance which many prominent men in the country already have placed on themselves. With this example before the people and probably shorter hours for the sale of liquor, it is now believed that total prohibition will not be necessary.

WHITES TAUNT NEGROES IN "BLACK BELT" IN CHICAGO; START FIGHT

Riot Calls Bring Police From Three Stations—Johnson's Sister Says Fight Was a Fake.

Chicago, April 5.—Some white men in that part of Chicago known as the "black belt," which was the home of Jack Johnson before he became a fugitive from justice, taunted a crowd of negroes tonight by cheering Willard. A general fight ensued and riot calls brought police from three stations. Several arrests were made. No one was injured seriously. The police stopped several other fights between whites and blacks. At the home of Johnson's mother, Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the former champion's sister met all queries with the statement: "It was a fake fight and everyone knows it. Jack would never have lost unless he wanted to." The negroes throughout the district were decidedly downcast.

SEVERE EARTH SHOCK IN ITALY ALARMS PEOPLE IN AVEZZANO

AVEZZANO, Italy, April 5.—(Via Paris, 6:20 P. M.)—Earth shocks have been of daily occurrence here since the disastrous earthquake of January 13th, but the disturbance of this morning was the most severe of any. Virtually no damage was done in Avezzano or the surrounding villages for the reason that the January disaster worked such havoc that there was little left to be destroyed. The people are still living in encampments, in all of which the shock of today was felt distinctly causing temporary alarm.

WOMEN HOLD BALANCE OF POWER IN TODAY'S CHICAGO ELECTIONS

All the Candidates Concede Winner Will Owe His Office to Feminine Votes—Parades Interfere With Downtown Traffic.

Chicago, April 5.—Women voters of Chicago hold the balance of power in the election of a mayor tomorrow. All the candidates conceded tonight that the winner would owe his office to feminine votes which will be cast at a Chicago municipal election for the first time tomorrow. The total registered vote was 769,106 and of this number 282,291 were women. Another big factor in deciding tomorrow's election will be the votes of the followers of the incumbent, Carter Harrison, who, after serving five terms as the city's chief executive, is sought for a sixth term, by Robert Sweitzer, who won the Democratic nomination by a large plurality. Mayor Harrison declined to throw any light on the subject today.

"That is for me to know," said the mayor when asked how he would vote. "I am to all intent a private citizen and I don't have to be a public man anymore. How I vote is my own affair."

Parades of followers of William Hale Thompson, the Republican candidate, and also of Sweitzer voters interfered seriously today with downtown traffic. Meetings held in theatres today were more orderly than those held Friday and Saturday when the police were forced to interfere. Both the Prohibition candidate, John H. Hill, and Seymour Steadman, the Socialist candidate, expressed themselves confident tonight of polling record votes due to the fact that women will vote tomorrow.

MAKES INQUIRY INTO WAGES OF SLEEPING CAR PORTERS

General Manager of Pullman Company Appears Before U. S. Commission of Industrial Relations.

Chicago, April 5.—The first government inquiry into wages and conditions of employment of sleeping car porters and conductors was made here today by the United States commission on industrial relations. L. S. Hungerford, general manager of the Pullman company was on the stand most of the day and was questioned by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission. In the first fifteen years of a sleeping car porter's service Mr. Hungerford said, he received $27.50 a month in the wages. At the end of fifteen years he, like other service employees automatically receives an advance of five per cent which makes his pay $28.87 a month. In the first ten years of service he pays $26.50 worth of uniforms but thereafter the company takes on this burden. A bonus system gives men with good records an extra month's pay for the year. In 1913 seventy nine per cent of the conductors and sixty five per cent of the porters received the bonus; in 1914 eighty five per cent of the conductors and seventy four per cent of the porters earned it the witness stated.

They are eligible to a relief fund after twenty years in the employment of the company but these provisions are flexible and often applied in exceptional cases, such as disability resulting from train accidents.

AFT SAYS CONSTRUCTIVE PEACE IS POSSIBLE IF EITHER SIDE WINS

BOSTON, April 5.—Former President William H. Taft in an address before the New England woman's club today said that a constructive peace in Europe would be possible if either side won decisively, because the victor would realize that permanent peace would depend upon his terms being just. "I believe," he said, "that a practical constructive peace is one that shall provide an international court for the settling of international disputes." Mr. Taft declared that existing arbitration treaties between the United States and other nations provided for the settlement of all questions except those which are likely lead to war and are therefore of little practical use except as an expression of good will.

PRINCETON PROFESSOR DEFENDS WAR AND CRITICIZES CLERGY

NEW YORK, April 5.—War defended and the clergy were criticized for their world peace propaganda by Philip Marshall Brown, professor of international law at Princeton University and former minister to Honduras, before the annual meeting here today of the Alumni association of Auburn Theological seminary at Auburn, N. Y. The speaker held that war was not horrible and indefensible but "the most rational thing that can happen at times." Professor Brown declared that by denouncing the war, the clergymen are in danger of being "thrown off the track."

SET TRIAL FOR APRIL 19.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 5.—By agreement of counsel for both sides the trial of the $50,000 libel suit brought by William Barnes of Albany against former President Theodore Roosevelt has been set down for April 19th. The action will have preference over all other cases on the calendar. The name of the justice who will preside has not been announced.

CHARGES BRITISH HAVE VIOLATED NEUTRALITY

MALONE CLAIMS CRUISERS HAVE BEEN COALING FROM SHIPS FROM N.Y.

Collector Expects to Bring Subject Before a Federal Grand Jury.—Secret Service Men Obtain Much Information.

New York, April 5.—Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, charged tonight that British cruisers patrolling the waters along the coast of the United States had been violating the neutrality law by coaling and taking on supplies from vessels putting out from the port of New York. Mr. Malone had an extended conference today with United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall regarding the state of affairs he claims to have discovered and tonight declared he expected to bring the subject to the attention of the federal grand jury.

Has Been Investigating Case. Mr. Malone said that for some weeks he had been making an investigation of information that had come to him from various sources to the effect that British cruisers, lying off the entrance to New York harbor, had been receiving food and coal from here. On board the United States torpedo boat destroyer Parker, the collector had been making trips about the harbor and outside Sandy Hook on many nights during several weeks past.

The collector intimated that these trips had resulted in important disclosures, although he would not say just what these had been. Mr. Malone admitted, however, that he had evidence to show there was a supply base for the cruisers in a down-town hotel in this city from which the foodstuffs are taken to various piers, then loaded on lighters and sent to sea where they meet British cruisers outside the three mile limit.

Detectives Obtain Information. Besides Mr. Malone's individual work George F. Lamb, head of the neutrality squad here, and several secret service operatives have been investigating for the customs authorities it was stated and have obtained much information of value to the search for evidence was to place a secret service man at Atlantic Highlands light near the entrance to the outer harbor, from which point he scanned the horizon to see what tugs or larger vessels might bring supplies to the British warships. Much evidence it was said was obtained in this way.

RECEIVES REPORT THAT GERMANS HAVE SUNK ITALIAN STEAMER

Creates Profound Impression in Genoa—Authorities Take Measures to Protect German Colony. Genoa, Italy, April 5.—(1:30 p. m.)—Via Paris.—(9:15 a. m.)—News was received here today that a German submarine had sunk the Italian Steamer Luigi Parodi, which left Baltimore on January 22, with a cargo of coal for Genoa. The report has caused a profound impression here and there are many expressions of resentment. Great excitement prevails and the authorities have taken strong measures to protect the German colony and German shops from the possible execution of reprisals. Nothing is known as to the fate of the crew of the Luigi Parodi which was made up entirely of Genoese.

The Luigi Parodi was a steamer of 2,672 tons. She sailed from Baltimore on January 22, her destination being given as Augusta, Sicily. The latest marine records simply report her as overdue. Apparently nothing having been heard from her. If the Luigi Parodi was sunk by a German submarine it would seem to indicate that Germany's underwater boats are covering a wide field of operation, extending far beyond the waters of the British Isles. The Luigi Parodi was built in 1899 at Stockton, England. She sails from Genoa and is owned by A. Parodi.

RECEIVES REPORT OF LOSS OF THREE ADDITIONAL LIVES

NORFOLK, Va., April 5.—Reports of the loss of three additional lives and the wrecking of three schooners in Saturday's storm were received here late tonight. The lost men were of the crew of the schooner The Josephine, which pounded to pieces on the North Carolina coast. Captain Creelman is among the missing. The four masted schooner William Thomas Moore was wrecked 30 miles northeast of Cape Henry. Captain Jones and his crew were brought here tonight by the British Steamer Morazan. The schooner Loring C. Ballard is a total wreck on the North Carolina coast near Gull Shoals. Her crew was rescued. TWO GERMAN OFFICERS ESCAPE. London, April 5.—(5:46 p. m.)—Two German officers escaped last night from the concentration camp for prisoners at Denbigh, Wales. They are Lieut. Von Sanders Labon and Lieut. H. Ambler. The latter is one of the aviators rescued from the North Sea.

War News Summarized

While the furious struggle for the Carpathian passes, in which the Russians appear to be making steady progress, is the dominating feature in the situation in Italy is attracting much attention. The Italian government is continuing with great activity the assembling of troops on the Austrian frontier, according to reports reaching Chiasso, Switzerland from Italian sources. The despatches say that still more important military activity is under way, but further information on this point is not allowed to leave Italy, the censorship being very rigid. In the Carpathian contest the Russians are fighting on the Hungarian side of both the Dukla and Lupkow passes. The latest Russian official statement announces the capture of Cisma, which is about 15 miles east of Lupkow and is an important railway station. The Russians also claim a success to north of Cernowitz, Bukovina, where a thousand Austrians were captured. The Austrians assert that they repulsed a Russian force which was attempting to cross the Dniester river. In the western theater little fighting of importance has taken place. The French claim to have captured three successive lines of trenches in the Forest d'Ailly, south of St. Mihiel, and to have gained a footing in a portion of the enemy's works, northeast of Regnierville.

The Germans announce that they repulsed French attacks in the Voivre and Argonne regions.

The German submarine U-31 has sunk the Russian bark Hermes and the British vessel Olivine. Greater excitement has been caused in Genoa by the receipt of a report that German submarine has sunk the Italian Steamer Luigi Parodi, which left Baltimore on January 22nd, with coal for Genoa.

BEGINS HEARING OF PETITION OF ROADS ENTERING ST. LOUIS

Apply for Permission to Continue Charging Lower Rate for Short Haul From East.

St. Louis, April 5.—The interstate commerce commission began a hearing here today on the application of all railroads entering St. Louis from the east for permission to continue charging lower freight rates between St. Louis and Ohio river crossing than between intermediate points.

Railroad officials who appeared before E. L. Gaddess, special examiner for the commission, today testified they were justified in requesting the continuance of such rates because of the water traffic competition between St. Louis and Ohio River points. Railroad commissioners and board of trades through Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio have been notified of the hearing and of the right of shippers to appear in opposition to the railroads' plea. Mr. Gaddess said tonight.

Thus far however, no shipper has indicated his intention of appearing at the hearing. A recent federal act prohibited railroads to charge more for a short haul than for a long haul over the same route. On the application of railroads in several other parts of the country Mr. Gaddess said the interstate commerce commission had granted exemption from the order.

CURTIS GUILD, FORMER GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS IS DEAD

BOSTON, April 6.—Curtis Guild, former governor of Massachusetts and former ambassador to Russia, died early today (Tuesday). Curtis Guild, Jr., was ambassador to Russia for two years during President Taft's administration and was three times governor of Massachusetts. He attained unusual distinction as a speaker through his ability to address an audience with ease in several languages. President Taft, in 1910, designated Mr. Guild as special ambassador to represent the United States at the centennial celebration of the independence of Mexico and at one of the functions in Mexico City he gave an address in Spanish. While he was governor he surprised some Japanese visitors to Massachusetts by saying a few words to them in their own tongue and with a brief speech in Italian he welcomed the Duke of the Abruzzi.

BRING FIVE OF BARGES CREW INTO NEW YORK.

New York, April 5.—The Steamer Comus from New Orleans brought into port today five members of the crew of the barge Northwest which broke away from the tug Wellington Friday and drifted helpless in the storm until sighted yesterday by the Comus off Cape Lookout, N. C. The Wellington with two barges lumber laden was bound from Jacksonville to Philadelphia. What became of the tug and the other barge was unknown to the crew of the Northwest.

VILLA FORCES EXPECT REINFORCEMENTS TODAY

BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF MATAMOROS IS DRAWING NEAR

American Army Officers Learn That Field Artillery is at or Near Camargo—Woman Expected to Fight With the Men.

Brownsville, Tex., April 5.—Information that the battle by Villa forces for possession of Matamoros is drawing near was received by American army officers at Fort Brown here today. They were told that ten to a dozen flat cars carrying field artillery are at or near Camargo, about 500 miles to the west and that repairs to the railroad between Matamoros and Camargo have been nearly completed. General Jose Rodriguez, commander of the Villa forces about Matamoros, said he expected the vanguard of his reinforcements tomorrow. This vanguard of about 500 men carries at least one three inch field piece.

Frank Rabb, collector of customs, received word from Washington today to permit the passage of hay, corn and other supplies to the Villa forces from the American side opposite Las Ruas, the Villa headquarters.

One of the Villa soldiers at headquarters camp is a young Mexican woman dressed in sombrero, khaki, jacket, trousers and hunting shoes. She expects to fight with the men in the assault on Matamoros.

Villa Forces Lose Heavily. Laredo, Texas, April 5.—Advices reaching Carranza adherents here tonight are that in a three days fight near Los Ebanos, thirty miles south of Tampico, Mexico, Villa forces have lost 1,100 killed and about 1,000 in prisoners.

According to the report Villa's troops attacked Carranza forces at Los Ebanos Friday. After a fierce battle the Villa army was compelled to retreat leaving 600 dead on the field. The Villa forces returned Saturday, according to the report and after a fight lasting through Sunday the Villa general ordered a retreat leaving 500 dead on the field, the Carranza army taking 1,000 prisoners.

CONTINUE HEARING OF SUIT TO DISSOLVE REFINING COMPANY

Testimony is Taken in New York City, Where Hearings Were Transferred from San Francisco.

New York, April 5.—Taking of testimony in the government's suit against the Corn Products Refining company of New Jersey, which it seeks to dissolve under the Sherman trust law because of its alleged monopoly of the syrup and starch business, was continued here today. Hearings were held in San Francisco until March 18th last, when they were transferred to this city.

James F. Bruff, a special agent of the department of justice, who examined the records of the defendant companies as to their total production from 1906 to 1913, testified today and furnished further figures. Objection to this testimony was made by counsel for the defendants on the ground that the government's only covered sales and production.

ASSERTS INTERNAL DISSENSION WILL NOT BRING SEPARATE PEACE

VIENNA, April 5.—Via London.—(5:30 p. m.)—"If our enemies set great hope that the internal dissensions of Hungary will bring about a separate peace their disappointment will be equally great," Count Julius Andrássy, former premier of Hungary, said today in reference to rumors that the Hungarian opposition desired to conclude peace.

"Certainly every one desires peace," he continued, "but only a peace calculated to end these evils we are fighting. The political differences now existing in Hungary probably will exist in the future but there are no differences on the point that this war affects the foundations of the state and we must win it. Our enemies are mightily misled if they imagine that any party in Hungary will ease their task."

HURLEY RESIGNS OFFICES TO QUALIFY FOR FEDERAL POST

CHICAGO, April 5.—Edward N. Hurley resigned all his official business connections today in order to qualify as a member of the federal trade commission, of which President Wilson has made him vice-chairman. Among the positions which he sacrificed are: Presidency of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; presidency of the First National bank of Wheaton; presidency of the Hurley Machine company and directorships in several other companies in which he was financially interested. S. M. Haltons, vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, succeeds Mr. Hurley.

STATES AUSTRIANS AND TURKS ARE INVADERS

Paris, April 5.—(3:15 a. m.)—A news despatch received here from Nish, Serbia, says that among the so-called Bulgarian irregulars who were killed or taken prisoners during their recent invasion of Serbian territory were a large number of Turks and Austrians.

GERMAN AUTHORITIES EXPEL PINCHOT FROM BELGIUM

Object Because His Sister is Wife of a British Diplomat—Will be Assigned to Other Work in the War Zone.

The Hague, Netherlands, April 5.—Via London, (8:50 p. m.)—Gifford Pinchot, ex-chief forester of the United States, who is understood to have been acting as special agent for the state department at Washington in the European war zone, has been expelled from Belgium by the German authorities.

To be Assigned to Other Work. Washington, April 5.—Gifford Pinchot, according to advices to the state department reached Antwerp, Belgium, but was not permitted to proceed further in his work as member of the American relief commission in Belgium, although detailed as a special diplomatic agent of the American government. The German authorities objected because Mr. Pinchot's sister is Lady Allen Johnston, wife of the former British minister to Denmark, who is still in the British diplomatic service.

Germany has insisted from the beginning that all agents and consuls of the American government in Belgium territory under German military occupation should have no connection however remote with Britons. It is said that the state department will assign Mr. Pinchot to other work in the war zone.

HOLDS BILL OF SALE FOR BODY OF WOMAN AFTER HER DEATH

Bankrupt Petitions Court Asking Whether Body Should be Counted as an Asset.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 5.—Mose Levich, a bankrupt pawnbroker here who holds a bill of sale for the body of Miss Dottie Morgan now of Denver after her death, today filed a petition in bankruptcy court asking for a decision upon whether this body should be counted as an asset in the settling up of the business. Levich claimed that the woman gave him the bill of sale in 1907 for the loan of $10 having no other security.

The bill of sale reads: "Des Moines, Iowa, January, 1907.

"I, Miss Dottie Morgan of my own free will and without coercion of any kind, do hereby sell to Mose Levich my body after death, to do with as he sees fit, for the consideration of ten ($10) dollars.

"The said Mose Levich shall not take possession of my body until after I am dead and that if at any time during my life I wish to cancel this bill of sale null and void and shall pay to Mose Levich or his assigns $10 in gold and lawful money of the United States his interest in my body shall cease. (Signed) "Miss Dottie Morgan."

Levich told the court he feared he would lose money on the proposition now, as in case Miss Morgan died it would cost several times what the body would be worth to him to go to Denver after it.

WILLIAMS IS KNOCKED DOWN TWICE BUT CONTINUES BOUT

Louisiana Gets the Better of Six Round Battle with Bantam-Weight Champion.

Philadelphia, April 5.—Kil Williams, the bantam-weight champion, was knocked down twice and took the count for seven and nine in the second round of a six round bout with Joe Lavigne, better known as Louisiana of this city, here tonight.

The local man appeared over anxious and missed both attempts to land finishing blows when the champion regained his feet after he had been floored by stiff rights to the jaw. Williams shaded the local fighter in the opening round but Louisiana made the better showing in the succeeding five periods. The champion appeared groggy at the close.

This was the fourth contest between the two fighters, who weighed in at 118 pounds. Popular decision had given each a victory and the contest a draw as the result of the three previous meetings.

WIRELESS MESSAGE STATES PRINS MAURITS SANK SATURDAY

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 5.—A wireless message stating that the Royal Dutch West Indies line steamer Prins Maurits sank Saturday afternoon was picked up yesterday by the United States navy supply ship Arctura, according to a statement by Captain Kennedy on the naval ship's arrival here today.

The message, Captain Kennedy said, apparently was sent by the Frying Pan Shoals lightship. The Arctura was searching for the Prins Maurits when the message was received and it then gave up the quest and continued to Charleston. Captain Kennedy said his ship found no trace of the Prins Maurits at the location given in wireless calls sent out by the steamer Saturday.

CAPT. HALSWELLE IS KILLED

London, April 6.—(3:08 a. m.)—Captain Wyndham Halswelle, the well known British runner, was killed while fighting at the front on March 31. It was announced here today. Captain Halswelle broke the quarter mile record at the Olympic games in London in 1908 in an exciting contest. He also held other athletic records.

TERRE HAUTE ELECTION CASE GOES TO JURY

VERDICT, IF ONE IS REACHED, WILL BE ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING

Instructions are Given as Soon as District Attorney Had Completed Closing Argument—Prosecutor Severely Arraigns Mayor Roberts.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5.—The case of the 27 Terre Haute men, charged with conspiring to corrupt the election of last November, went to the jury in the federal court here late today. Court was then adjourned until tomorrow morning, which means a verdict, if one should be reached, will not be announced until then.

Judge Anderson Instructs Jury. Judge A. B. Anderson read his instructions to the jury as soon as United States District Attorney Dailey has completed the closing argument, during which he severely arraigned Mayor Donn M. Roberts and Judge Eli H. Redman, two of the defendants.

"You are instructed," stated the court in discussing the jurisdiction of the federal government in the case, "that the right of a legal voter to vote for a member of congress and for a United States senator at an election where such representative and senator are to be and are elected is a right secured to the voter by the constitution and laws of the United States."

The court stated that one of the most important questions to be decided by the jury is "what ones of the defendants now on trial, if any, were parties to the conspiracy?"

Tells What Constitutes Conspiracy. To constitute a conspiracy, the court instructed the jury, it was not necessary that two or more persons meet and agree to the ends proposed but that it is sufficient if they come to a mutual understanding in any manner. The offense is complete, he stated, when one or more of the parties so agreeing together does any act to effect the object of the conspiracy.

He added that every person who gave a helping hand or said anything in furtherance of the object became a conspirator and that all were bound and were responsible for the acts of one of the conspirators.

Judge Anderson in his instructions emphasized the fact that the men are on trial, not for violation of Indiana election laws but on a charge of conspiracy. He said the defendants could be found guilty of any or all of the four counts in the indictments.

"Should Be Received With Caution." Regarding the testimony of those who have pleaded guilty, Judge Anderson said that while it was the duty of the court to admit such testimony, "it should be received with caution and scrutinized with care." He added that the facts that these defendants have pleaded guilty or that an indictment had been returned have no tendency to show guilt on the part of the defendants who have pleaded not guilty.

The court in concluding, said that the defendants were presumed to be innocent until the government had proven, beyond a reasonable doubt in the mind of the jurors, that they were guilty.

RETURNS INDICATE SWEEPING VICTORY FOR "DRYS" IN MICHIGAN

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—Returns received up to midnight tonight indicated sweeping victories for the "drys" in the local option contests which featured the Michigan state elections today.

Incomplete returns also showed large majorities for the Republican state ticket.

All of the four "dry" counties—Eaton, Lenawee, Genesee and Sanilac—which voted on the saloon question remained in the "dry" column with comfortable majorities. At least eight of the "wet" counties where local option was at stake apparently went over to the "dry" side.

The apparent victory of the "drys" means the closing of at least 265 saloons throughout the state.

ELECT WILLARD LIFE MEMBER

San Antonio, Tex., April 5.—The Old Trail Drivers' association composed of cattlemen and former cowboys, today elected Jess Willard, a life member. Willard is a former cowboy and for this the cowmen said they did him honor.

STOPS THE PAINS OF INDIGESTION

When Soda Tablets Lose Effect Try This Simple Remedy.

People who are accustomed to taking some digestive tablet after meals shall depend solely on Soda or Peppin as digestive aids, generally find such remedies soon lose their force and that it takes two or three tablets to bring relief where at first it took but one.

Such a condition is dangerous and the use of such remedies should be promptly stopped before serious damage is done to the stomach. The excessive use of Peppin weakens the natural organs of digestion, while frequent doses of Soda irritate the stomach walls.

Speedy relief from the distress of sour, gassy stomach, heartburn, or that full, heavy, lumpy feeling can be safely obtained from Mi-o-na Stomach tablets which are a physician's prescription. Mi-o-na increases the flow of the gastric juices, strengthens, instead of weakens the stomach and promotes a natural, healthy and painless digestion that soon makes any digestive pill unnecessary.

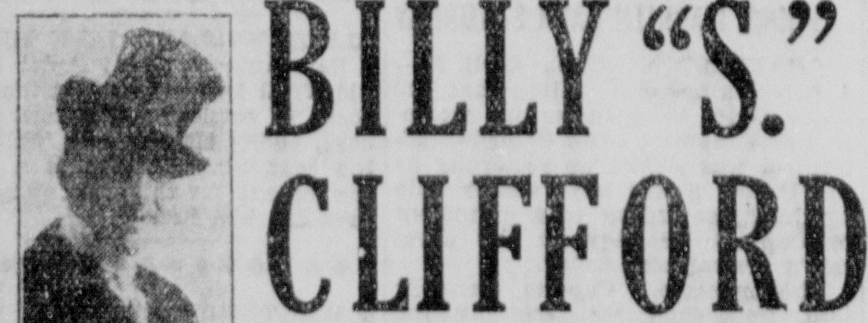

These Mi-o-na Tablets are always sold by Coover & Shreve and other leading druggists on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back.—Advertisement.

LITERBERRY.

Last Thursday we received a cordial invitation to a social gathering of the ladies of the Christian church at Bonnie View, the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rexroat on Sweet Clover avenue. We were sorry we could not attend this meeting, for Mr. and Mrs. Rexroat are old friends of ours, but we were called to "Lone Oak Farm" on that day and had to miss a good thing.

Mrs. Melissa Paul of "Rosa Flower" called at our office Monday afternoon.

W. E. Schall, of Starke Nursery Co., Louisiana, Mo., was delivering goods here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coffman, of 729 North Main street, Jacksonville, drove to Literberry Sunday and took dinner with D. K. and Mrs. McCarty.

Mrs. Robert Beavers of Oakdale, and Mrs. John Myers of Oak View, are on the sick list. Mr. Obermeyer is the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Olroyd of "Deep Dale" gave a swell dinner to a few of their friends on Sunday.

Mrs. C. W. Phelps, of "Treezy Point" has been quite sick for several days.

The Baptist aid met in regular session at "Rose of Sharon" on Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. May Litter, hostess. This was a good business meeting, also a social time, with plenty to eat and a generous offering.

A. E. Daniels of "Look Out Point" came to Literberry Thursday morning with an easy riding carriage, and informed us that he was after us, to eat a big dinner at Lone Oak.

It had been so long since we had taken a ride behind a team of good horses, that he accepted his offer and were soon racing down West Canal street, wrapped in a bear skin robe, which Mr. Daniels had thoughtfully furnished, headed for the Bend. We met several old friends on the road, and were geyed about "The Mitchell" but that made no difference, for we got there all the same, picking up Mrs. Daniels and little Mabel on the way.

Where we enjoyed the day, Jimmie Daniels and wife are keeping house at Lone Oak and we found them good entertainers. Mrs. Daniels a splendid cook, her dinner being equal to the standard Literberry dinner, and this is the highest compliment that can be passed on any cook in the land. We arrived home late in the evening, feeling under obligations to Mr. and Mrs. Daniels.

Attendance at the Baptist Sunday school Sunday was 75; offering $2.75. The school gave an egg banquet in the basement on Saturday night which was a great success in the way of sociability and egg eating.

Sunday morning after Sunday school the superintendent informed the school that the "Philathen" class, taught by Mrs. J. M. Litter, would give an extra. We were in doubt whether we caught the name right; the class began to sing and we thought the right name should be "Philomela." You know Philomela was the daughter of the king of Athens, and she was changed into a nightingale. Either name is very pretty but we believe the latter is the most appropriate.

This class did sure give an extra, the songs were good, the realizations fine and up to date, especially the one given by Mrs. Ed Litter. Ask the Literberry men about this and see if they do not bear us out in our statement.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HOLDS

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

Reports of Public Schools Will Be Published at End of Year—Other Routine Business Transacted.

The board of education met in regular monthly session Monday evening. The matter of oiling streets adjacent to the West State street buildings was arranged; David G. Fernandes was appointed janitor of the high school building; the public school reports were ordered printed at the end of the year in compliance with law. The question of certificates possessed by teachers was discussed; the matter of the superintendent's authority to rent the new auditorium was also brought up but nothing definite done.

The Proceedings.

After routine business William Cocking was heard regarding the oiling of the streets on the four sides of the school property bounded by West State street, Jordan street, Fayette street and Koscusko street and the alley between the high school and David Prince building and he offered the whole for the season at the reduced price of $80. He said if the sprinkling wagons were in operation it would cost $130 for the same service. The proposition was to do the oiling as often as was necessary to keep down the dust. The proposition was unanimously accepted.

The question of the expiration of the use of certain text books was brought up and left to the text book committee.

Member Imgrund said the stairs in the David Prince building were wearing too fast and felt the makers should repair them but they declined to do so as they claimed the guarantee had been rendered void by the material tracked on them from without. The clerk was instructed to correspond with the house and endeavor to secure proper repairs according to contract.

David G. Fernandes had been temporarily employed as janitor at the high school building and received such a good recommendation from Supt. Collins that he was employed regularly.

Member Imgrund brought up the matter of publishing financial and other reports of the schools and moved it be done according to law. It was suggested that monthly reports would be impracticable and he then suggested that the complete reports be published at the end of the year in order to comply with the law, or else get the law changed somehow. The clerk suggested that several things in the school law could be changed to advantage. The mayor and Member Wells thought the work was to be done by the incoming board at the end of the school year. It was finally decided that the reports of the treasurer, superintendent and all that pertains to the schools be published at the end of the year in pamphlet form.

The clerk called attention to the condition of the treasury and warned the board that it could get but about $500 more on anticipation warrants. The county superintendent had paid over $7,151.48 from the state fund which had been a help but it had been largely used in paying March salaries.

Member Imgrund said there had been two bills for substitute work, one at $2 a day and one at $3.50 a day and asked for explanation and was told that the higher price was paid an experienced teacher and the other to one with no experience, but who had to be had a short time as none others were available.

Member Imgrund asked if all the city teachers had certificates; he had understood from the county superintendent that they had not. Superintendent Collins explained that all regular teachers had them. Some who were doing only special work had special certificates and sometimes when the need for substitute teachers was urgent, the board was not always able to get teachers with all desired qualifications but it was so late now, it was hardly worth while to hire a regular substitute teacher as pleasant weather would undoubtedly render the need of any one small, and regular substitutes were doing regular work.

Member Imgrund asked about the desired raise in the salary of Mrs. Smith in Independence school. Member Clampt said he had been waiting for Member Imgrund to call on him regarding the matter. Member Imgrund thought the chairman of the committee should have acted and said it was time they were getting together in the matter. No action.

Member Imgrund asked who had the authority to rent the auditorium in the new building. Supt. Collins said he had been told by members of the board, one of whom was Mr. Imgrund, that henceforth he was to be actually superintendent and have charge of things. Member Imgrund: "I gave you an inch and you took an ell." Supt. Collins insisted he had acted wholly within his authority. He understood the new auditorium was for the use of the people, in all proper occasions when it was for the general welfare. He could not run after each member of the board every time some little thing was to be done.

Member Imgrund asked who gave Commissioner Newman permission to have election in the new building and Supt. Collins said he had done so as he was only letting a small part of a hall and saw no usurpation of power in it. Member Imgrund thought the gentleman had gone entirely too far in doing as he had done. Member Clampt said this whole discussion was unnecessary. In all cities the size of this a superintendent of schools is chosen and he is made superintendent. He didn't think Supt. Collins had exceeded his authority at all. He was the superintendent of the schools and had done what he deemed best and had not overstepped his authority. Mr. Imgrund was master mechanic and did as he thought wise without running to his superiors every time he did anything. If the superintendent has to hunt up the members of the board every time he wants to do anything he will get but little done. The member has but one object in offering an insult in this manner. Member Imgrund seriously objected to any such charge claiming he meant no such thing. The mayor said the whole thing was out of order and entertained a motion to adjourn and the meeting was at an end.

WOULD RESTRAIN O'DONNELL FROM RUNNING LOCAL JITNEY BUSES

Complaint is filed by the Jacksonville Railway and Light Company With the Public Utilities Commission.

A petition has been filed with the Public Utilities commission of Illinois by the Jacksonville Railway and Light company for an order to restrain L. F. O'Donnell from operation of jitney buses in the city without a certificate of necessity and convenience from the commission. The Jacksonville Railway and Light company in their petition say that they are doing a transportation business in Jacksonville and that their services are fully adequate for the accommodation of the people, and that the rates charged are reasonable.

The petition relates that neither said L. F. O'Donnell nor any person or persons associated with him, doing business under the name of the Motor Transportation company, had at the time the state utilities act of the state of Illinois was passed and became effective any city or village franchise for engaging in or performing the business of common carrier for hire in the city of Jacksonville, nor were they or any of them engaged in the business of transporting or hauling persons for hire within the limits of the city of Jacksonville.

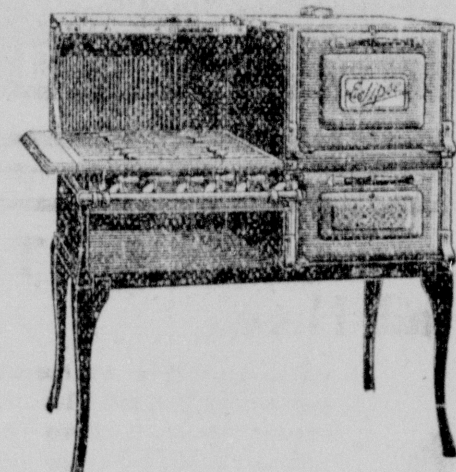

That the said L. F. O'Donnell and others associated with him and doing business under the name of the Motor Transportation company in the city of Jacksonville, are and have been since March 28, 1915, engaged in the business of operating a public utility subject to the act for the regulation of public utilities, but notwithstanding said fact that in violation of said public utilities act, they have not applied and are not now proposing to apply for and to procure from this honorable commission a certificate of necessity and convenience required by law to be obtained before engaging in a public utility business within the city of Jacksonville and state of Illinois.

Petitioner therefore prays that said L. F. O'Donnell may be required to answer the charges, heretofore and that upon a final hearing thereon the commission may make an order requiring said L. F. O'Donnell and others associated with him and doing business under the name of the Motor Transportation company to cease and desist from continuing the business of transporting passengers for hire within the limits of the city of Jacksonville in violation of law and without the consent of this commission, and such other orders as may seem meet in the premises.

Mr. O'Donnell was not apprised of the action of the J. R. and L. company until late last evening, and stated that he had not looked into the matter. He thought that his license, which he received from the state ought to say whether he could run his car over the streets and that if he had more than one car he could use them as he saw fit. However, he contended that he had not looked up the law in the matter but had no desire to do that which was not right. The action of the commission in the premise will have great weight in other cases of a similar kind in the state.

MORUARY

Man.

Joseph W. Mann, one of the substantial citizens of Jacksonville, died at his home, 137 West Chambers street, at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning from cerebral apoplexy. He had been ill but two days and news of his death was a great shock to his friends throughout the city. He had been feeling unwell Friday and Saturday and had not worked those days. Sunday he rested well and Monday morning arose as usual to go to work. About fifty-three though he telephoned to the car barns that he would not be able to work.

His wife and daughter attempted to relieve the pain in his head by the use of hot and cold cloths but these did not bring the desired result. Mr. Mann was helped to his Morris chair and had rested in it but a few minutes when he became unconscious and died.

Dr. David Reid, Dr. C. E. Black and Dr. W. L. Frank were called but Mr. Mann had passed away before any of the physicians arrived. Coroner G. W. Wright empaneled a jury and at 8:30 o'clock held an inquest. Miss Ethel Mann and Dr. David Reid were the only witnesses examined. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased died from cerebral apoplexy.

The coroner's jury was composed of the following: F. A. Mosely, foreman; W. S. Lorton, Charles Cruse, H. L. Woodall, J. M. Summers and J. W. Priest.

The deceased was born in Hillsboro, Ill., October, 1858. He was married to Miss Clara Walter at Orleans in 1890. For the past nine years Mr. Mann has been in the employ of the Jacksonville Street Railway Co., and has served the most of that time in the capacity of motorman. His previous occupation was that of farmer. He had for thirty-five years been a consistent member of the Brooklyn church and was also a member of the Woodman and Ben Hur lodges.

His mother, Mrs. Martha Mann of Chicago, his wife and daughter, Miss Ethel, survive him. Mr. Mann is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Robert of Jacksonville, Edward of Bloomington, H. L. of Burlington, Iowa, E. S. of Paris, Ill., Mrs. Peter Weber of Chicago, Mrs. Catherine Cox of Chicago, Mrs. Daniel Grady of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Minnie Miller of Muscatine, Iowa.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

McClelland.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. R. E. McClelland of Springfield, who died Sunday morning at 11:20 o'clock at the Washington Park hospital in Chicago. She was the wife of Dr. R. E. McClelland of Springfield and well known in Jacksonville. Death was due to paralysis after an illness of a week.

Mrs. McClelland is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Pearl Jones, and one son, Carl, all of Springfield. The remains were taken to Springfield Sunday evening and the funeral will be held from the family residence there, 1401 Lowell avenue, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, with interment in Williamsburg.

Miss Ila McClelland is very well known here as she graduated from the Illinois Woman's college in music and was also at one time a special student in music at the conservatory.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor, at one time a resident of Jacksonville, but now of Williamsburg, is a sister of the deceased. She also leaves other near relatives.

Lindemann.

Otto Henry Lindemann, Jr., died Monday morning at 6:45 o'clock and the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Lindemann, 809 East College avenue from pneumonia after an illness of fifteen days. The child was just a little over a year old, having been born in this city, Feb. 27, 1914.

The funeral will be held at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the residence in charge of Rev. Kappler. Interment will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

Roberts.

Miss Dollie Roberts died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Roberts Monday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. She was a member of the Central Christian church and a woman respected and loved for her many qualities of true womanhood.

Besides her father and mother, she is survived by one brother and one sister, Mr. Albert E. Roberts of Jacksonville and Mrs. William Dods-worth of Liberty.

The funeral will be held Thursday from the residence, Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of the Central Christian church will have charge of the service. Interment will be made in East cemetery.

Cox.

Harmon A. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Cox, died Monday morning at 8 o'clock of pneumonia at the family residence, five miles northeast of Concord. The child had only been ill for twelve days. He was born January 12, 1914. He is survived by his parents and two brothers, Robert and Floyd.

The funeral will be conducted from the M. P. church of Concord, this afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. A. L. Cain. Interment will be made in the Concord cemetery.

Johnson.

Samuel H. Johnson died Sunday evening at 8:40 o'clock at his late home two miles east of Chapin. He has been in failing health for three weeks. He was born in Brighton, Macoupin county, Oct. 29, 1853. Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Walter Thornley of Ashland; Mrs. Harry Bruner of Beardstown; a son, A. L. Johnson of Chapin, and one sister, Mrs. William Waltman of Spokane, Washington. He was a member of the Modern Woodman.

The body was sent to Beardstown, via the Burlington where funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning from the Catholic church with interment in the Beardstown cemetery.

Epler.

Miss Mary L. Epler of Beardstown, sister of Earl N. Epler of this city, passed away Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Dr. Prince's sanitarium in Springfield. News of Miss Epler's passing was the occasion here of great surprise as death, though preceded by long illness, was very unexpected. A mastoid abscess, following a severe case of typhoid fever, was the cause of death. Deceased was twenty-two years old and was born and reared in Beardstown. She was a daughter of W. D. Epler, foreman of the C. B. & Q. railroad shops. Her parents and uncle, Dr. Frank P. Norbury, were with her when the end came and her brother, E. N. Epler, left for Springfield via the 6:25 Wabash Monday evening.

Miss Epler was a graduate of the Beardstown high school and was a faithful member of the First Congregational church. Domestically inclined, she was a great lover of home, and in the Sunday school, too, was the known for cheerful faith and steadfast devotion.

Announcement of the funeral has not yet been made.

Driver.

Mrs. Hannah Driver, wife of Richard Driver, died Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her home in Arenzville, according to word received by H. H. Vasconcellos, grand-son of the deceased.

Mrs. Driver's maiden name was Hannah Kenweathy. She was born April 5, 1832 in Yorkshire, England, and came at an early age with her parents to America. She was reared in Providence, R. I., where in later years she became the wife of Dr. Thomas Sweet. There were born to Dr. and Mrs. Sweet, three daughters, one of whom died in infancy. Mrs. Hannah Vasconcellos of this city and Mrs. James Grayshaw of North Weymouth, Mass., are the daughters surviving. Dr. Sweet died March 8, 1867, and soon after this his widow removed to Illinois. She was in 1870 married to Dr. Driver and resided with her husband on a farm east of Arenzville until five years ago at which time a residence was taken in the village. Besides the daughters there are surviving Mrs. Driver's husband and one sister, Mrs. Mary Charlesworth of Arenzville while another sister, Mrs. James Harvey died in this city a number of years since.

Mrs. Driver united with the Episcopal church while yet young and during a life of many years never failed her early faith. She was an earnest Christian and a woman of gentle demeanor and noble character.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but it is probable that the body will be brought to Jacksonville for burial.

FUNERALS

Dawson.

The remains of Mrs. Samuel Dawson who died in Colorado Springs, reached Jacksonville and were taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. A. B. Opperman, 315 South Main street. The funeral services were Monday afternoon at the residence where many gathered to give expression to their high regard for the deceased. Dr. F. S. Hayden was in charge and made the services impressive indeed. Music was supplied by Mrs. J. H. Campbell, Miss Cora Graham, T. H. Rapp and W. W. Gillham. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery and the many beautiful flowers were in charge of Mrs. Thomas Willerton and Mrs. Atlas Pike. The bearers were T. H. Rapp, C. F. Glossop, Archibald Norris, M. Van Houten, U. Ziegler and S. G. Coray.

MATRIMONIAL

Sowers-Hudson.

WILLARD IS WORLD'S PUGILISTIC CHAMPION; KNOCKS JOHNSON OUT

Negro Has Better of Battle for Twenty Rounds—Consensus of Opinion Is That Johnson Knew He Could Not Win and Chose to Take the Count Rather Than Take Further Punishment —Negro Will Settle on a Farm in France—Willard Is to Return to the United States.

HAVANA, April 5.—Jack Johnson's career as heavy-weight pugilistic champion of the world ended today. In the twenty-sixth round of his scheduled forty-five round battle with Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused the negro to crumple on the floor of the ring, where he lay partly outside the ropes until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hands in token of his newly won laurels.

Johnson Gets Up Quickly.

A second or two later, Johnson quickly got up and it was well that he did so for a moment later a rush of spectators to the fighting platform all but smothered the pugilists. For an instant it seemed as if trouble was threatened, but some fifty or more of the several hundred soldiers stationed about the arena formed circles about the vanquished and victor. Under escort of the soldiers Willard and Johnson left the ring and went to their dressing rooms while the crowd cheered and broke into wild discussion.

There is much discussion tonight and probably will be for a long time among the followers of the boxing game, whether Johnson was really knocked out. In the sense of being smashed into unconsciousness he certainly was not put out. The consensus of opinion is that Johnson, who had exhibited for more than twenty rounds, his best attack without appreciably injuring his opponent, knew that there was no possibility of his winning; so when knocked down he chose to take the count rather than rise and take further punishment.

Johnson Will Go to France.

The day after tomorrow, Johnson, his wife and a little group of friends will sail for Martinique, there to await passage back to France where Johnson proposes to settle down and lead the life of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is through with the ring.

Willard who is being acclaimed tonight as the new champion, is going back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him today, when Johnson got $20,000 before the fight started, Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known.

Today's fight has few parallels in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the two huge men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white or black gladiators.

So it was until the twenty-fifth round, when Willard got one of his widely swinging, wind mill right-hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

Tells Wife He is All-in.

When the round closed, Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all-in and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and was passing the ring in the 26th round when the climax came.

Johnson has often stated that fighting is a business and he would not foolishly submit to repeated knockdowns when he found he had met his master.

Willard was out of his dressing room a few moments after the fight ended and in an automobile on his way back to Havana. He was escorted half way to the city from the Mariano race track where the fight was held, by a troop of Cuban cavalry.

Willard Hero of the Island.

Crowds lined the streets and narrow roadways and the new white champion was loudly cheered. He was decidedly the favorite of the crowd all through the fight and tonight is the hero of the island.

Automobiles returning to the city from the fight flew white flags and thus the news spread far and wide that the white challenger had beaten the negro champion. As Willard came along, the crowds in the streets waved flags and linen handkerchiefs tied to sticks.

At one point a group of negro children, who had evidently heard that Johnson was the victor, waved black flags at the white champion, who was much amused.

Willard a Modest Champion.

Willard probably is the most modest champion who ever stepped out of a prize ring, taking his victory as philosophically as he had looked forward to the fight. Neither he nor Johnson showed much evidence of having been engaged in a heavy-weight championship battle.

The champion's lip, right ear and left cheek showed slight cuts, but at no time was there more than a drop or two of blood in evidence.

In this respect, the fight was in great contrast to the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno five years ago, when Jeffries was cut to pieces and blood splashed over the spectators at the ringside. Evidently thinking that this condition might prevail again today, Johnson objected to the presence of a white woman in the newspaper seats just outside the ropes and she was relegated to a place out of possible range.

Cleanest Heavy-weight Battle.

On the contrary, no fight between heavy-weights that has gone to a finish was cleaner or less brutal. Johnson's left eye was partly closed in the early rounds but not sufficiently to interfere with his fighting. His lip also was cut inside and his famous golden smile flashed from a very red setting. The end of the fight came with a suddenness that dazed the spectators. It followed two or three rounds of almost complete idleness on the part of the contestants and the crowd settled down to a long drawn out struggle, believing that it would go the full limit of the forty-five rounds without either being able to register a knockout. In round twenty-six Johnson rose slowly from his chair and Willard met him more than two thirds of the way across the ring. Willard stabbed a long left into the negro's face, sending his head bobbing back. Before the champion could recover his position Willard swung a smashing right, which landed full on Johnson's stomach. Johnson was flung against the ropes by the force of the blow and he clinched on the rebound.

Blackman Holds Grimly.

The cowboy tried to tear loose but the black man held grimly with eyes closed and legs shaking. Just before the referee broke them Johnson looked over Willard's shoulder toward the box where his wife had been, his eyes showing a dozed, tired, puzzled expression. As soon as Welsh had broken the clinch Jess rushed again, forcing the negro into Willard's corner, where the finish came. Johnson was slow in guarding and his strong, youthful opponent hooked a swinging left to the body.

The fading champion's legs quivered and again the towering giant feinted for the body. Johnson dropped his guard and Willard won the title with a quick hard swing to the exact point of the jaw. The negro's knees folded up under him and he sank slowly to the floor and rolled over on his back, partly under the ropes.

Welsh Holds Up Willard's Hand.

Walsh waved Willard back and began to count. Up and down swung the referee's hand but Johnson never moved. His eyes were glassy, only the whites being visible. At the count of "ten" Welsh turned and held up Willard's hand and a new champion replaced Johnson who was still stretched on the floor of the ring. The time of the round was one minute, 26 seconds.

The early rounds were filled with flashes of Johnson's former wonderful speed when he would rain rights and lefts to Willard's body and face, delivering ten blows to one from the big white challenger. Through all this time Willard was strictly on the defensive and on occasions Johnson played with him, once standing with guard down and letting Willard swing at him, only to dodge and laugh at the awkwardness of his opponent.

In many respects the fight resembled just as many predicted, Willard and his friends particularly prophesying that if the battle lasted twenty rounds Johnson could not win. This was based partly on the belief that Willard could stand all the punishment Johnson could inflict and partly on the doubt as to Johnson's condition and his ability at his age to fight a long battle against such odds of superior height, weight, reach and youth.

Willard Launches Blows Aside.

Willard said before entering the ring that he expected to take a beating for ten or fifteen rounds at the hands of his faster and more skilled opponent and had trained to withstand it. As a matter of fact, he took twenty rounds of severe punishment but laughed the blows aside and kept standing up against the rushes of the negro, who several times in each of the earlier rounds swept Willard before him to the ropes.

Johnson's back showed numerous welts raised by the ropes as he fell into them. In the rushes Johnson would attack Willard in the body and when the latter's hands and arms came down to guard that part of his anatomy Johnson would swing rights and lefts to the unprotected jaw and face. After each of these attacks Willard cheerfully came back for more.

Johnson's Continual Grin Changes.

Johnson's continual grin through the early rounds began to change to a look of wonderment as the battle turned into the twenties and it was evident to the spectators that the negro came to the conclusion that it was useless for him to try to knock out the young western giant.

Johnson also seemed to know that he was not in condition to fight forty-five rounds. His blows lacked the force which sent Jeffries toppling from the topmost rung of the pugilistic ladder at Reno.

Time had done its work. It had been the opinion of Johnson and many of his friends that he did not have to be in the best condition to whip Willard regardless of the latter's youthfulness.

The fight was all Johnson's during the first twenty rounds, Willard only once or twice taking the aggressive and then swinging clumsily and wildly. Meanwhile his body was growing pink under the blows that flashed from Johnson. In these rounds Willard took a beating which would have put an ordinary fighter down and out. The crowd got used to seeing him throw off these slashing blows and expected to see Johnson do the same thing when Willard swung his right to the negro's chin in the fatal twenty-sixth round. They expected to see Johnson jump up and continue fighting, just as Willard has come back, but the old champion knew that he had fought his last championship fight.

Last Six Rounds Slow.

From the twentieth round to the final, the fight looked slow and the crowd began to hoot and ask that somebody do something. There was a slide cry of "fade" but it was not taken up by the other spectators. The reason it looked slow was because Johnson, who had been doing all the fighting, suddenly stopped and began sparring for time.

It was some time before Willard or his seconds realized that Johnson was through and only needed a blow or two to send him to pugilistic oblivion.

During the early part of the fight, Johnson carried all his old time confidence and self assertiveness. He constantly parried words with the spectators about the ring and talked steadily at Willard, who heeded the negro's chatter about as little as he did his blows.

Willard's Seconds Warn Negro.

Willard's seconds were after Johnson all the time, warning him to keep away from Willard's terrific right. It was in the 16th round one of Willard's seconds shouted: "Jack, you run into Jess' right; we will pick you up right over here."

"Be sure you take good care of me," said Johnson.

It so happened that when Johnson went down for the count it was in Willard's corner.

When a spectator called out "Johnson, you will get your's today," Johnson replied: "Well, there is good money in it, isn't there?"

Willard probably will take his own time in accepting any challenges. He already has announced that if he won he would not fight another negro. There is no doubt that today's victory will do the new champion a world of good. Today he was palpably nervous and at first was afraid to go at Johnson. He constantly jabbed or lunged and then backed away instead of following up an advantage when it came to him. It can hardly be said at present that Willard is a great fighter, but he is a wonderful specimen of physical manhood and is likely to develop an aggressiveness and skill that may make him invincible for years to come.

White Man Looked Clumsy.

Willard looked very clumsy against Johnson today. A more skillful man might have knocked Johnson out after the twelfth round for after that the negro was going on speed and nerve and skill.

Throughout the fight the Cubans kept shouting words of encouragement to Willard, such as "Kill the black bear," and "Knock him out and let's go home."

When one spectator shouted at Johnson that he was an old man the negro replied: "You just watch the old man," and with that he chased Willard twice across the ring, knocking his head first to the right and then to the left with a series of cross blows. There was virtually no big betting here on the fight. The odds for small wagers today varied from 8 to 5 and 6 to 5 on the negro.

The setting for the contest could hardly have been more picturesque. It was held in Oriental Park, the race course at Mariano, 12 miles from Havana. This park, in a sort of natural amphitheatre, is surrounded with hills, with here and there a lowering palm tree standing sentinel. The ring was constructed immediately in front of the grandstand and was surrounded by temporary boxes and bleachers, put up circus fashion over night.

Estimate Crowd at 20,000.

The crowd which paid to see the fight would be difficult to estimate, but it looked to number between 15,000 and 20,000. In addition fully five thousand persons viewed the fight from the distant slopes and hills. The Cubans, who made up a large percentage of the crowd, were much excited. Many women, both Cuban and American, were present as well as all the notables in the island.

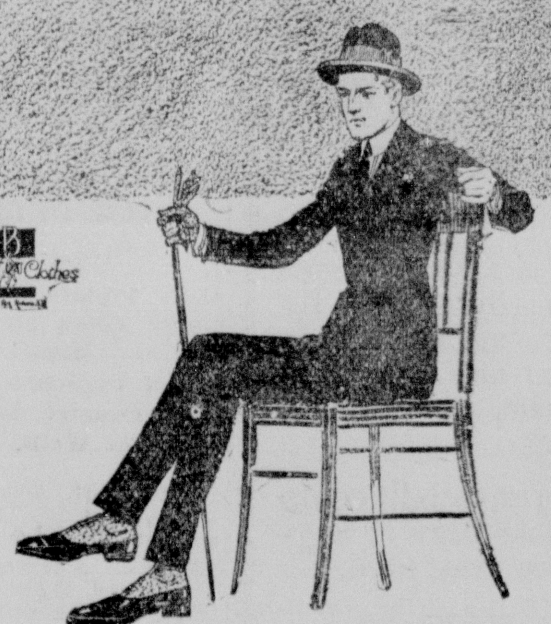

Havana itself was deserted during the battle, a half holiday having been declared informally. Tonight, however, the streets are ablaze with lights and the Cubans are celebrating Willard's victory. Several thousands of them blocked the plaza in front of Willard's quarters at the hotel when the new champion returned triumphant from the battle. The police had to clear a passage through the cheering crowd of men and women. Willard was wearing the same old sweater, blue trousers and felt hat which had become familiar through his training work on the road.

Mrs. Willard Pleased.

Los Angeles, April 5.—"I knew all along that Jess would win," said Mrs. Jess Willard here today when told of the outcome of the fight at Havana. She appeared pleased but not at all surprised. Her only

A FRIENDLY CONTEST.

The Invincible Bible class of the Northminster church have entered into a friendly contest to continue till July first. The class has been divided into two divisions with Chas. DeSilva captain of the Blues and Henry Gupkanst captain of the Whites. A novel scheme has been devised by the teacher, Rev. W. E. Spoons, and consists of a trip to Jerusalem and the way is marked in a strip on the edge of the ceiling with divisions indicating fifty miles each. Two tiny steamers, one blue and one white, are suspended and are to be moved according to the accomplishments of the representative sides. New pupils, attendance and contributions are to be the things sought for and at the end the one arriving second at Jerusalem is to treat the other to some kind of an entertainment. Considerable interest is manifested in the contest and the class, already strong, will undoubtedly be much increased.

One condition of the contest is that no one already belonging to a Sunday school is to be invited to join this class.

ANTI-SALOON LECTURES.

Sunday morning James H. Danskin spoke at the Congregational church in the interest of the Anti-Saloon league and gave some very telling arguments. This is an organization which appeals to all in favor of true temperance reform for it is not affiliated with any party but comes to men on its genuine merits. A substantial contribution to the cause was made by the congregation.

In the evening Mr. Danskin spoke to a good sized audience in Chapin and was heard with close attention. On both occasions his remarks were well received.

THE WAILING PLACE

In this sad world, with grief begirt, the more we howl, the more we're hurt. Misfortunes seem to keep the trail of those who raise the loudest wail. The business men, in pomp arrayed, who own big palaces of trade, and have their minions by the score, don't very often raise a roar. If things go wrong they do not sigh, or show the world a streaming eye. They do not advertise bad luck—that will not draw the patron's buck. They advertise the gorgeous fact that they have red hot bargains stacked, all through the store, all sorts and styles; and when you go you're met with smiles. The merchant in yon tin horn store, who's been there thirty years or more, who has a dribbling stream of trade from those who'll stand for goods decayed, is always at the wailing place, has always tears upon his face. The man who aims to get ahead, and not be numbered with the dead, must sound the brave and joyful note, and keep a firm grip on his goat.

EVERYONE ADMIRES THIS GOOD-LOOKING WOMAN

Wherever you go you hear people comment upon a pretty woman and it is really beautiful hair more than perfect features that gives her the appearance of charm, youth and beauty.

Any woman can merit this praise for beautiful hair is nly a matter of care. Just as a plant needs attention and nourishment, so must the hair have care and nourishment to make it grow long, thick, soft, Chambers second addition to Jack-be free from dandruff, and the hair fluffy and lustrous. The scalp must be intended.

Parisian Sage, which is delicately perfumed and easily applied is just what is needed. It tones up and invigorates the roots of the hair and furnishes the necessary elements to make it grow long, soft, abundant and full of life.

One application of this scientific tonic removes every trace of dandruff and cleanses the hair of dust and excess oil.

Why not start now to beautify your hair by using Parisian Sage, the great tonic treatment? It is inexpensive and easily applied at home. It can be had from Cover & Shreve, or any drug counter, and will surely work a miracle even if the hair is dandruffy, oily, faded, streaked, dull and lifeless.—Advertisement.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The Ladies' Aid society of State Street Presbyterian church, which was to have met this afternoon, will gather Thursday afternoon instead. The meeting will be held at three o'clock in the church parlors and as it will be the last of the series, a full attendance is desired.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

DANGEROUS WATER IN RURAL DISTRICTS

DISEASE LURKS IN DRINKING WATER TO GREAT EXTENT.

Gross Violations of Nature's Sanitary Laws are Common, Says
Writer—Believes State in Time
Will Prescribe Certain Standards for Construction and Maintenance of Wells.

(By G. M. Ives, St. Louis, Mo.)
The inhabitants of cities have suffered severely from water born diseases. Extensive epidemics, especially of typhoid fever, have been traced to a contaminated water supply. Following the repeated demonstrations of the role of water in the transmission of disease, great im-

Old fashioned well unprotected.
Observe the filth falling into the well.

Improvements have been made so that now many cities have a water supply which is free of contamination, which is free of the agents of disease.

What has been done in rural communities to secure wholesome water? The subject may not have been sufficiently agitated to make it widely known that water, yes the water from the wells in rural districts and villages, is a factor in the spread of disease. It is stated that the majority of the wells in the country are insanitary. My own observations support this statement.

Dug well adequately protected

Violates Nature's Laws.
Gross violations of nature's sanitary laws are common in all communities both urban and rural. In cities at the present time, however the sanitary conditions exceed those of rural communities. A single violation of a principle of sanitation in a densely populated district may injuriously affect a large number of people. Because of this, and for other reasons, much educational work has been carried out in cities, laws have been passed, provisions have been made for their enforcement, money has been appropriated for improvements and the maintenance of special health officers.

In the rural communities infractions of sanitary laws bring their pathetic consequences, but the consequences for single violations generally do not affect many people. Frequently those who are responsible for such violations or their families are the ones who suffer the consequences. He who maintains an ordinary open privy or an insanitary well is likely to reap the consequences sooner or later.

Population Denser.
But rural families are not wholly isolated. In some communities I am sure the people are becoming more social than they have been in the past. The communities are becoming more densely populated. It is true that in certain respects the conditions in the country are approaching the conditions which exist in the city. In the city contaminated water, manure heaps, and open privies are considered menaces to the public, and very frequently they are treated according to this law. It will be a step in advance when insanitary conditions in rural communities, which frequently on superficial examination are considered personal affairs, are looked upon as affecting the public health and are brought within the scope of public control.

I have drifted from the subject which I began to discuss, the subject of drinking water in the rural community. In regard to the location of wells I believe that it is very rare for sanitary considerations to play a part in the selection of the site. In nearly every instance the only consideration in determining the location of a well is the matter of convenience. What you have wanted is water which may be obtained conveniently, you have not been at all strict in regard to the quality of the water. Frequently your wells are so located as to receive seepage from a barnyard or privy. Animals such as snakes, rats, and sometimes chickens have been known to get into wells. Their dead bodies have been found there. You and I will probably continue to drink at intervals water which may be truthfully described as an infusion of the putrifying bodies of snakes, rats, birds, chickens, etc.

Law Will Step In.
There will come a time when it will be unlawful for wells which furnish such water to exist. The state will, according to my firm belief, prescribe standards which must be observed in the construction and maintenance of wells. This action on the part of the state will be no infringement on personal rights. This will be a public welfare act for the enactment and enforcement of which the state has ample authority.

I confidently look for a similar act in the near future on the subject of privies. The ordinary privy within a few years will exist, if it exists at all, contrary both to law and to an enlightened public opinion.—Abstract from an Address.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated
Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that his little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs", and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative", because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

THE ORIGINS OF COMMERCIAL PAPER

PROFESSOR GIVES HISTORY OF BILLS, NOTES AND CHECKS.

Authority on Law Tells First Uses of Negotiable Paper and Traces History of Money—Bill of Exchange was Earliest Form and Promissory Notes Soon Followed.

(By C. G. Vernier, Professor of Law, University of Illinois.)

We are so familiar with the use of money and negotiable paper that we may be tempted to think that their utility has always been known to civilized people. But such is not the fact. Before money in the shape of coin and bank and government paper was invented, trade was carried on by means of barter—the exchange of one kind of goods for another kind. Many of our modern financial terms suggest an origin in an age of barter. Among primitive people the chief source of wealth was cattle. From pecus, Latin for cattle, we derived pecunia, money. From this in turn we have derived pecuniary and speculator. The idea that cattle must constitute the chief personal property of every man has survived in the word chattel. Reckoning cattle by the head, per capita, we derive capital.

After the days of barter various things such as stones, shells, and metal coins were used as money. The use of precious metals as money especially in transportation across the seas and between towns involved the danger of loss by shipwreck, piracy and robbery. This led some ingenious mind to devise the use of commercial paper to represent money. The world owes a great debt to this unknown benefactor.

Steps in the process of redressing a cold chisel.

tor, for today it may be conservatively stated that over 90 per cent of the world's business is transacted through the agency of commercial paper. In 1913 the face value of the checks, drafts, etc., passing through the clearing houses of the United States alone, totaled $139,375,450,000. Were it possible to obtain the figures involved in all transactions in the United States outside the clearing houses, and to add to this the total sum for all the other civilized countries of the world in any one year, the result would be so enormous that it would be beyond comprehension.

The earliest form of negotiable paper was undoubtedly the bill of exchange. At first its use was limited to transactions between foreign countries. Today it is used between towns in the same country and even between people in the same town. Hence today we speak of domestic bills to distinguish them from foreign bills. It may seem strange to a layman to learn that for the purpose of defining foreign bills, each state regards all other states of the United States as foreign countries. Among business men a bill of exchange is usually called a "draft". The term "draft" is a popular rather than a legal term.

Bills of exchange seem to have been introduced into England from Italy by the Venetians or Florentines. The exact date of their first appearance is not known, but we are certain that they were used during the reign of Richard II. (1377-1399). However, the date of the first case in the regular English reports involving commercial paper is surprisingly recent, viz, 1603. Even until 1700 cases were few, so that this branch of the law is, relatively speaking, of modern development.

The second instrument to become negotiable was the promissory note. However the first judicial recognition of such negotiability did not occur until 1680. The basis of this decision, as indeed of all decisions recognizing negotiability, was mercantile custom. For several years this case was followed but when Lord Holt became Chief Justice he opposed this usage, and denounced promissory notes as an invention of Lombard street, declaring that he could not allow Lombard street to make law for Westminster Hall. (Lombard Street in London corresponds to Wall Street in New York.) While the matter was still unsettled in the courts, Parliament intervened and made promissory notes negotiable in the year 1704. In the United States such instruments are negotiable everywhere either by statute or decision.

The next instrument to develop was bank notes. Bankers and goldsmiths who held money on deposit began to issue promissory notes

WORK OF REDRESSING COLD CHISEL IMPORTANT

HEATING IS MOST DIFFICULT
ELEMENT IN LABOR.

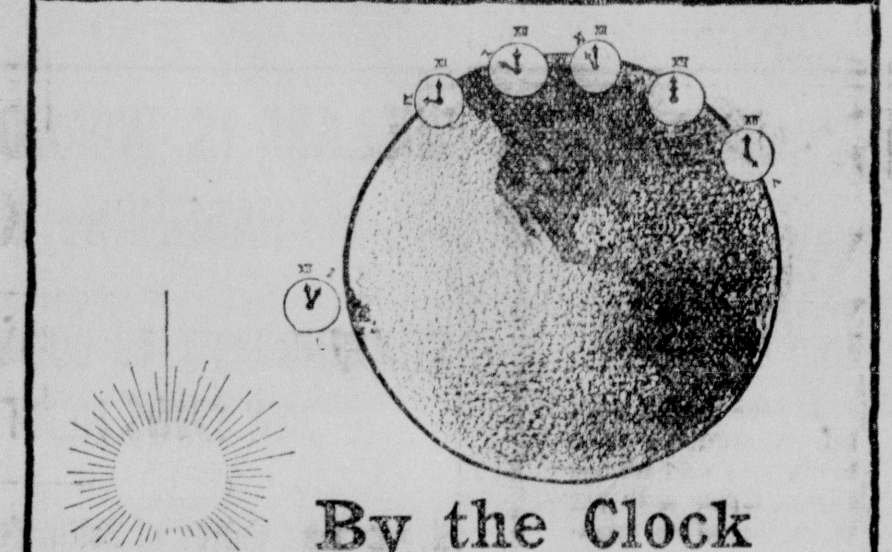

Point Being Thinner Rest of Chisel
Becomes Hot More Rapidly—Some
Directions Given for Work—Different Temperatures Responsible for Colors.

(By P. J. Rebnan, Instructor in Forge Practice, University of Illinois.)

After a cold chisel has been used for some time it becomes dull and must be reground to a cutting edge, which makes it thick and also removes the hard edge it had when new. When this has been done several times the chisel becomes so thick and soft it is of no value for cutting hard metal, and the only thing that can be done is to buy a new chisel or have the old one redressed. With a little knowledge of working tool steel, the old chisel can be redressed in a very short time, saving the expense of buying a new one.

The most difficult part of redressing a chisel is in the heatings which should be done carefully and slowly, so as to insure an even heat throughout the steel. When heated too fast the point being thinner than the rest of the chisel, becomes hot more rapidly and is likely to be overheated before the rest of it becomes hot enough to forge.

The Proper Way.
The proper way to redress a chisel is to heat three inches to a lemon color (1600 degrees F.), remove to the anvil, and narrow up the edges to dimensions given in A, Fig. 1. Turn on flat side and strike several hard blows first on one side, then on the other, until chisel is forged to shape and dimensions in B, Fig. 1. Repeat to bright red color (1450 degrees F.) and strike a series of blows on flat surface of chisel, from shank to point, packing the molecules of the steel together, making a finer grade of steel. Repeat this operation on the other side.

The newest NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Cook Stove with the "fireless cooker" oven gives you slow heat, quick heat or a "fireless," as you will. The secret is insulation. This oven is built just like the finest fireless that can be made, but in addition is heated with two burners, so that it is a fireless and oven combined.

By adjusting the flame you get the quickest kind of quick heat for fast baking, or the slow, steady kind you want for baking bread and roasting.

Seal the oven and turn out the flame and you have a fireless cook stove.—The easiest managed, most convenient one that ever was invented.

The insulation that gives you this wonderful combination also keeps the kitchen cool. No suffering in the summer months when you have a NEW PERFECTION, besides the saving of fuel. There is a spacious cabinet top to warm dishes, and ample room behind the burners for keeping food hot.

For a small additional sum you can have the NEW PERFECTION Broiler—a wonderful broiler that broils on both sides at once, sealing in the juices and increasing tenderness. A special feature of construction prevents smoke and disagreeable odor.

This NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Cook Stove burns oil-clean, convenient and economical, banishing dirt and labor. Comes in two sizes, but No. 7, illustrated, is what most families like.

When you put a tablespoonful of S. S. S. into your stomach it gets straight into your blood. In less than five minutes it has become a wave of restorative influence wherever the blood has circulated. Does this read like magic? But it is absolutely true. Those powerful digestive juices in the stomach can not change the medicinal effect of S. S. S. The liver can not burn it. The lungs, skin and kidneys excrete it only after S. S. S. has set in motion millions of cells and nerves to throw off the countless germs that have infected every part of the body. And as S. S. S. continues to battle those troublesome pests that gather in the form of pimples, boils, eczema, acne, catarrh, rheumatism and other so-called blood disorders, it rouses into action a myriad of strange but well-understood corpuscles called leucocytes that actually devour or change or convert disease germs so they are readily and quickly cast out of the body. ## KNIGHTS TEMPLAR WORSHIP AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Impressive Services Held with Large Number in Attendance—Sermon by Rev. M. L. Pontius.

The Easter service of Hospitalier Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar at the Central Christian church was beautiful and deeply impressive. Under command of Eminent Commander, Sir Knight W. A. Crawley, the commandery marched with inspiring music by the Merritt band and the attendance was highly creditable and in their uniforms the body made a fine appearance as it passed through the streets to the church.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, an especially attractive emblem being a brilliantly illuminated cross and crown, the emblem of the order, hung in front of a dark background on the organ. Miss Alice Mathis handled the organ with her usual fine skill and ability and a special quartette, consisting of Sir Knights John L. Johnson, George Bradley, W. S. Badger and Charles Cornick rendered some especially fine music, while a solo, "The Holy City," was most artistically rendered by Sir John L. Johnson. The beautiful ritual of the order was conducted by Prelate, Sir Knight Julius Strawn.

The order of exercises was: Call to Prayer. Song, "Christ Arose," quartette. Apostles' creed. Prayer, closing with the Lord's Prayer.

Vocal solo, "The Holy City," Sir Knight, John L. Johnson.

Prelate's address.

Responsive reading.

First lesson, Hagai, II: 1-2.

Second lesson, St. John, 20: 1-18.

Offertory.

Song, "Olive's Brow," quartette.

Sermon.

Hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," quartette.

Benediction.

The sermon by Rev. Myron L. Pontius was a masterly effort and it is with regret that only a very few thoughts can be presented.

The reverend gentleman paid the order a high compliment and thanked them for the honor conferred by accepting his invitation to be present on this Easter day. He said the order stood for the principles set for us by Him who rose this Easter day and led captivity captive and gave good gifts to men.

He took for his text Job 14: 14.

"If a man die shall he live again?"

Theme, "The Question of the Ages."

That is a question that has fallen from the lips of mankind for the past ages. From the fact of sleep the savage deduces the fact of a life beyond this world. Wise men have tried in vain rightly to describe life. The soul cannot be described. Poets and philosophers have tried in vain. In despair Ingersoll said it was a narrow beam between two eternities. From all of these the heart of man turns away and says in the song of Longfellow:

"Tell me not in mournful numbers
That this life is but a dream."

We need that which will satisfy the longing of the soul. Man has accomplished much in the material realm but he is helpless with human power to care for the soul. There is an instinct that it will live and so the savage buries the dead man's horse with him, trinkets and armor, that he may have them in the other world.

To sages of old believed in the soul and pathetically groped after the truth. Socrates, Kant, Hegel and others, all have shown the same longing and belief.

All animal life has instinct which is nature's guide and never deceives. The migratory bird never starts for a different climate at the wrong time; the instinct of the animal never fails but to man is given reason. This life is unfinished and in the realms beyond the grave will the whole being be rounded out.

Mankind has moved from the sod hut to the stately mansion; from the boomerang to the magazine rifle; from rude gestures to finished language; from hieroglyphics to the printing press but this life is far too short for the full completion of the soul. The greatest writers have only been able to give faint expression to the sentiments within them; the great composers like Beethoven were able to only to give even a faint echo of the melody which seemed to come to them from the upper spheres; in the famous Madonna of Raphael, the artist was unable to express what he saw in the vision of his soul.

If there is no future life our souls' instincts are misleading and eternal justice is a farce.

How absurd the poor testimony of Pilate and the soldiers that Christ did not arise. The guards were subject to death if they slept; it was death to break the seal on the stone; would eleven, trembling disciples do this in the face of 54 guards? He was seen by over 500 at one time and on several occasions by lesser numbers and He did rise from the dead. The universal desire and expectation of immortality is enough to satisfy any reasonable man that if he dies he shall live again and on the great voyage of life the Pilot will be seen face to face when the mortal passes over the bar.

The excellent discourse was heard with close attention and it was especially gratifying to note the ease with which the reverend speaker quoted so much from memory.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Doubt It—An Amazing Game.

This is a card game which can be played by any number of people and in which two packs of cards are used. These are dealt around one at a time till all are given out. The player at the left of the dealer selects any card from his hand and puts it in the center of the table, face down, but naming the number of spots or rank of the card. The next person puts down a card in the same way, saying it is the next in order, but whether he has the next or not he may play any card he chooses, declaring it to be the next card in order. If any member of the party doubts it he can call out "Doubt It!" Then the dealer may turn up the card, and if it proves not to be the one declared its player is obliged to take all the cards on the table. If the card is the one declared, then the doubter must take all the cards. The object of the game is to get rid of cards, and the one who is first out of them is winner. The cards should be played quickly, without delay. It is not necessary to "doubt" every card.

The Kingbird.

Few birds eat as many varieties of insects as does the kingbird. He may be seen on nearly any afternoon sitting on the limb of a tree waiting for the appearance of an insect, which he captures on the wing. More than 90 per cent of his food consists of beetles, caterpillars, flies, spiders and grasshoppers.

He is a natural fighter and makes his attack on the larger birds when they are flying by alighting on their backs. A crow that is being assailed by this little pugilist is seen to twist and turn in the air and to increase his flight. The crow usually calls loudly for help, but this little fellow that is not much larger than an English sparrow does not pay any attention to the cries for help and often puts to flight crows, hawks, jays and other birds of prey, but he seldom disturbs the smaller birds.

How Arabs Live.

Douglas Carruthers, a traveler and writer, tells a few interesting facts about the Arabs. He says:

A Bedouin tent is a drafty place at the best, but in midwinter it is almost unbearable. On two occasions there was snow on the desert. We used to feed out of a huge round dish, ten of us at a time. The fare was camel's milk and bread in the morning, and in the evening we generally had meat and rice cooked with an enormous amount of fat. During the day we appeased our hunger by sipping strong black coffee. At night there was always a large group of men in the tents of the sheik and talk was carried on far into the night. At times they would tell stories in a beautiful manner to the tune of a single stringed violin, and they would sing extempore songs by the hour.

Hare and Hounds.

The modern boy who may be familiar with hare and hounds may like to know that it has been played by other boys since the middle ages, and that there are different ways of playing it. It was played in old England and in Wales as follows: One boy was chosen for the hare. He started out over the fields and through woodlands a few moments in advance of his comrades, who were to act as hounds and pursue him. The hare carried a bag filled with bits of paper or sometimes grains of corn. These he scattered to indicate the route he took. He could circle and maneuver to deceive and mislead his pursuers, but must drop his track signs. The hounds tried to follow and catch him before he got "home," which was a place agreed upon beforehand.

Haystacks In Trees.

It is necessary for the thrifty Chinese farmer to protect his hay crops from the floods which so frequently recur. He does this by selecting tall trees near his home. Upon these he fastens his hay in a sort of stack or nest some distance from the ground and in circular form around the trunk. The stacks are always thatched on top, so that the water cannot possibly soak through. All the surrounding ground may be swarming with water, but a farmer's crop is perfectly safe. Some of the Chinese villages set aside a certain grove of trees and use it for a common stacking ground.

Character Building.

The ordinary boy is not thoughtful. The principal articles of the boy scout creed lay stress on duty, honor and self-sacrifice. The scout must seek at least "one golden deed" to do each day. As a result there are more than 200,000 boys in the United States who are learning to take care of themselves and others handily in the plodding routine as well as in the sudden exigent crisis. It does not need a war to prove the value of the acquired habit of obedience and the dependable steadfastness of character. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Little Brothers.

Little children, never give pain to things that feel and live. Let the gentle robin come. For the crumb you save at home. As his food you throw along He'll repay you with a song. Never hurt the timid hare. Peeping from her green grass lair. Let her come and sport and play On your lawn at close of day. The little lark goes soaring high. To the bright windows of the sky. Singing as if 'twere always spring. And flying on an untired wing. Oh, let him sing his happy song. Nor do these little brothers wrong!

DR. B. CLARKE HYDE WILL BE TRIED FOR FOURTH TIME

Famous Swope Mystery Case to Attract Attention of Court Again.

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—Whether Dr. B. Clarke Hyde will stand his fourth trial on the charge of murder, or will be freed entirely of the charge, will be determined it is expected at the term of court which began here today. The case has been continued three times since the third trial two years ago. Dr. Hyde's counsel has demanded immediate trial and it is expected he will again put in this demand when the case is reached at this term of court.

One of the hitches which has prevented an earlier trial is an injunction suit brought against the county court by two "taxpayers" to prevent the court from paying the expenses of a fourth trial for Dr. Hyde. The injunction was sustained by the supreme court. Floyd Jacobs, the prosecutor, has declared that the supreme court in its decision admitted there was collusion between the "taxpayers" and the defendant in preventing the court from standing the expense.

The Swope mystery formed one of the most sensational occurrences of the middle west. Early in October, 1908, Colonel Thomas H. Swope, who gave Swope park to the city and was known far and wide for his benefactions, was stricken suddenly ill and died in convulsions. A few days previously Miss Huntington, a cousin of the colonel, died under similar circumstances. Witnesses testified at the first trial that a few moments before Colonel Swope's convulsions, Dr. Hyde had given him a capsule, similar to the cyanide capsules it was shown he had bought. It was on the purchase of these capsules that his conviction was principally based. Soon after Colonel Swope's death came a number of infections in his family. The repeated and continued illness and two sudden deaths aroused suspicion and a secret autopsy was performed on the exhumed body of Colonel Swope. On the reports of the toxicologist and the testimony of the druggist who sold Hyde and cyanide, as well as that of nurses in the Swope home and of the typhoid fever patients, Dr. Hyde was convicted. Hyde claimed the men had died of natural causes, said the cyanide was to exterminate vermin, and said he purchased the typhoid fever culture to experiment with. His wife stood by him in vain at the first trial.

After Dr. Hyde was sentenced for life in 1910, his attorneys appealed the conviction to the state supreme court. By a decision rendered April 11, 1911, the supreme court ordered a rehearing of the case. The case has gone through two more trials without final adjustment.

ELEVEN MEN LOSE LIVES IN EXPLOSION IN COAL MINE

Approximately Four Hundred Others Who Had Just Entered the Mine, Escaped Uninjured.

Greenville, Ill., April 5.—Eleven men lost their lives as the result of a black damp explosion in the Shoal Creek coal mine (near here) this morning. Approximately four hundred others, who had just entered the mine, escaped uninjured. Ten bodies of the dead had been recovered tonight. Only the body of Theodore H. Burns, who was among the first to enter the mine and whose lamp is believed to have caused the explosion, could not be found. An hour before the explosion, the mine inspector after the customary daily examination had pronounced the mine safe. In 1910 six men were killed in a similar explosion at this mine. In 1911 two men were killed in a black damp explosion there.

Among those who were killed today were three brothers, Joseph, Louis and Peter Stella. Joseph Fritz and Thomas Fritz, uncle and nephew, respectively, also were killed.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing up a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can so easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white MUSTEROLE.

MUSTEROLE is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of a pleasant white ointment. It takes the place of the out-of-date mustard plaster, and will not blister!

MUSTEROLE gives prompt relief from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

THE ORIGINS OF COMMERCIAL PAPER

payable on demand. The custom of merchants very speedily gave these instruments the quality of negotiability. This was judicially recognized in 1758. They are payable to any holder who may present them and need no indorsement. There is a story to the effect that the Bank of England originally required the holder to indorse its bank notes before payment. According to the story, this practice was changed by an obstinate gentleman, who rather than sign his name, sued the Bank of England, for dishonoring its promissory note and won. Bank notes and government paper money are therefore only a form of the simple promissory note used by individuals. The fact that they may be printed or engraved on special paper to make counterfeiting or forgery difficult, and may be secured by deposit of coin or other things of value, makes them pass current more readily, but does not alter their fundamental character.

Promissory notes issued by banks in the form of bank notes having become negotiable, the banks began to accept bills of exchange drawn on them by their customers, payable on demand. The bill of exchange in this special form became known as a cheque or check. A check is therefore only a bill of exchange. However, it should be carefully noted that it is governed by special rules in some respects.

In a subsequent article entitled, "The Law Merchant," the part which mercantile custom played in the development of this branch of the law will be described.

LEO FRANK AND OTHER

CASES UP TODAY

Washington, April 5.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, at Atlanta, Ga., is expected to be among the first reported when the court sits today.

Argument will be heard in the test case of railroads against the government, in support of the railroads' claim that some $35,000,000 is being illegally retained by the Postoffice Department for transportation of mails.

The government's anti-trust suit against the International Harvester Company will also be argued soon. Attorneys for the so-called trust have filed briefs in support of their contention that the Minnesota federal district court's ruling that the corporation was in violation of the anti-trust law should be reversed. The harvester company claims that the dissolution decree would work an unjustifiable destruction of property.

Another interesting case which comes up early in the new session is that of the state of Georgia against the Tennessee Copper Company, to stop dissemination of sulphuric fumes from its smelters over Georgia farms.

TRY OLD SUIT

AGAINST SUGAR KINGS

Boston, April 5.—Trial of the $400,000 suit of William J. Lowrie against James B. Castle and others, sugar kings of Hawaii, will begin here today. The suit was filed here in 1906, while Castle was visiting his son, a pitcher on the Harvard baseball team. Lowrie claims this large sum because of the breaking of their contract with him when he was serving as general manager of their sugar plantations in Hawaii. Since the suit was filed, a constant stream of pleadings has been filed in the case. It took 200 days to introduce the evidence before an auditor.

CLAIM BRIDGE DYNAMITING

POLITICAL OFFENSE

Boston, April 5.—Werner Horn, the Prussian army officer, who attempted to blow up the international railroad bridge at Vanceboro, Maine, will be given a hearing in the United States district court today on the charges brought against him by the federal grand jury of transporting dynamite from one state to another. His counsel has planned a special pleading today, to the effect that the court had no jurisdiction in the case, as the offense charged was in effect a political offense, or an act of war, over which the court had no jurisdiction. That Horn's escapade is a matter for the state department to deal with, and not for the courts, is the contention of Horn's attorneys. Horn has spent the last 10 days in jail, refusing bail for fear of arrest on warrants for extradition to Canada.

DIVORCE IN ROGERS CASE.

New York, April 5.—The divorce suit brought by Mrs. Caroline Eldridge Rogers, the legal wife of Loring Elton Rogers, is set for hearing today on the undefended calendar. Rogers will not oppose the granting of the divorce. Another perplexing angle is given the famous murder case by the divorce proceedings. Rogers, who is the admitted father of the two small children poisoned by Mrs. Ida Smith Walters in the Christmas holidays, may be free to marry the accused woman, and thereby forfeit them both against the prosecution for murder, under the legal provision which forbids husband and wife from taking the witness stand against each other. Such a development would seriously handicap the state's case against Rogers, or Mrs. Walters, it is said. She is under indictment charged with murder, and Rogers was indicted under a statute covering his alleged relations with Mrs. Walters.

EXPERIMENT RESULTS
IN SOUTHERN FIELDSVARIOUS EXPERIMENTS SHOW
EFFECTS ON PRODUCTION.

Limestone and Phosphate Should be Figured in the Cost or Value of Land—Farmers in Southern Illinois Advised as to Use of Fertilizers.

(By Cyril G. Hopkins, University of Illinois.)

It should be kept in mind in connection with these results that the wheat crop of 1912 was commonly a failure in this state, and that the droughts of 1912 and 1914 were perhaps the most severe ever known in two consecutive years in Southern Illinois.

At the beginning of these experiments, ground limestone was applied at the rate of 5 tons per acre at Ewing and 6 tons per acre at Raleigh, but the regular subsequent applications will be two tons per acre every four years, beginning in 1915 at Ewing and in 1917 at Raleigh.

Rock phosphate was applied at rates varying from 500 to 2000 pounds per acre on the different series at the beginning, with subsequent applications of 2000 pounds every four years, although this may ultimately be reduced to one-fourth of this amount.

The kainit was applied at the beginning at rates varying from 200 to 300 pounds per acre on the different series, with subsequent applications of 800 pounds every four years.

Farm manure has been applied, beginning for 1911, in such amounts as could be produced from the crops grown the previous season.

The crop residues returned to certain plots consist of corn stalks, straw of wheat and oats, and of soybean or clover beans, all except the seed, and some cover crops.

Figuring the Cost.

The limestone to some extent, and the phosphate to a large extent, should be considered as additions to the cost or value of the land. Thus 6 tons of limestone costing $12 spread on the land and 1 ton of phosphate for $8 would add $20 an acre to the cost of the land. To pay interest on these investments and the addition for maintenance will require per acre per annum about $1.25 for limestone and $1 for phosphate; while the annual expense for 200 pounds of kainit at $15 per ton amount to $1.50 per acre; or, as the annual expense for the four crops (1 acre each) we may count $5 for limestone, $4 for phosphate, and $6 for kainit, understanding that these amounts will vary with freight rates, with the distance of the farm from the railway state, and with changes in prices.

Allowances for Increase

The prices allowed for the increase produced are 70 cents a bushel for wheat, 35 cents for corn, 30 cents for oats, $1 for cowpeas or soybeans, $5 for clover seed, and $6 a ton for hay. Some would advise me to double these values. Of course these are very conservative prices, and perhaps they are too low; but it should be stated that they are prices for crops standing in the field before harvest, and that higher prices must be secured to pay for harvesting, stacking, baling, threshing, storing, and marketing, and for possible losses. The treatment applied to the soil does not deliver the increased produce at the market, but only ready for the harvest.

The results of these experiments show all the yields secured, and the financial summaries give the results of twenty trials with limestone, twenty with phosphate and ten with kainit, each trial representing a season's record with four crops. On the basis of values named, the limestone would pay for the annual cost during the first two seasons with the livestock system of farming on the field at Ewing; but in the other eighteen trials limestone always paid more than the estimated cost; and, as an average of the twenty trials, limestone costing $5 a year has returned $12.13 in the increased yield of four crops. Or, if we count $2 a ton as the cost of the limestone spread on the land, the average initial expense for Ewing and Raleigh is $11 per acre, and the return for the first five years is $15.16; and it is safe to say that half the value of the limestone still remains in the soil for the benefit of future crops.

In only three cases out of twenty has the phosphate paid its annual cost of $4 and four acres but the average returns of $1.07 for the first two years and $2.33 for the last two are suggestive of progress.

In three cases out of ten the kainit has paid its annual cost of $6, but the averages of $4.05 for the first two years and of $3.08 for the last two years suggest a decreasing effect, as would be expected from rational systems with increasing use of organic manures produced upon the farms.

These results only confirm those of many other experiments, which have led me always to advise against the use of raw phosphate except in connection with plenty of decaying organic matter; and we constantly advise Southern Illinois farmers first to make liberal use of limestone, legume crops and organic manure, even though they delay the addition of phosphorus for several years.—Abstract of an Address.

the Available Stocks of Wheat—
Corn Also Scores Gain.

Chicago, April 5.—Exporters buying May delivery here and at Minneapolis and Kansas City today lifted the price of wheat. The outcome was a firm close, 3/4c to 2 1/2c

Corn gained 3/4c to 3c net, oats finished 3/4c off to 4c up and provisions down 5c to 10c.

Seaboard call for the May option drew sharp attention to the extreme lightness of the available stocks of wheat. The weekly re-

CITY COUNCIL TRANSACTS SMALL AMOUNT OF BUSINESS

The Matter of Changing the Voting Place From the Courthouse to the David Prince School Discussed.

The city council met in regular session yesterday morning with all present. The payroll for March was ordered paid as soon as funds are available for same.

Com. Newman brought up the question of changing the voting place from the courthouse to the David Prince school building. He said the courthouse was objectionable for several reasons, especially as it was objectionable to women and he thought it would be well to appoint a committee to confer with the judges of the polling place regarding the matter. The mayor asked the city attorney regarding the legality of the change in polling place.

Attorney Thompson said the law provided that the council should name the judges of election and provide polling places and there were certain restrictions regarding them, one being that the place must be in a room not having doors opening into any other apartment. The mayor said the judges had waited on him and said they would not make the change. He would not say just what their powers were now but certainly on election day they are supreme. He had supposed the registration was held at the David Prince school building till informed otherwise. They said they had the authority of an attorney that if the polling place were now changed to the school building the whole election would be illegal.

Com. Newman said the judges and clerks should have been notified of the change before registration day and might yet make the change. The mayor said he had no objection if it could be done legally.

Com. Newman said the change should be made according to the vote of the council and if the judges are not willing to abide by the will of the council let them resign.

The city attorney doubted if the change could be made legally. Com. Newman said the courthouse was hardly a lawful place as it had doors opening into other apartments.

The attorney said the same objection would lie against several of the voting places. It would lie also against the David Prince school building where there would be doors opening into other apartments. The fact was, the city and county had not yet had time to prepare suitable voting places under the new law doubling the number of voters.

Com. Newman thought the change should be made to the David Prince school building as it was so much better and would cost nothing and finally he and Com. Engel were made a committee to confer with the election judges regarding the matter and report.

PROBE SHIPMENT OF DEAD BABY IN SUITCASE

Kankakee, Ill., April 5.—Pretty Inez McLaine, a telephone operator of Piper City, Ill., will be questioned at the April term of the Ford county grand jury in regard to shipment of a dead baby by express from Piper City to Cincinnati. The girl has admitted that she sent the suitcase, but denies that there was a baby in it when it started on its journey. A letter received by Mrs. N. W. Knapp, head of God's Bible school, Cincinnati, who also received the suitcase, asked her to have the child buried.

ASYLUM CASE DRAWS THROU.

Physicians and Others From Jacksonville Go to Peoria to Hear Woman's Fight For Freedom.

Hearing on a writ of habeas corpus which was sued out in an attempt to free Mary Hoban from an asylum took a dozen physicians and other persons from Jacksonville to Peoria Monday. Miss Hoban, whose home is in this city, testified before Judge Green to circumstances of her commitment to the Jacksonville asylum upon the finding of the Morgan county court. She recently was transferred to the Peoria State hospital at Bartonville.

Monday evening's Peoria Star has the following comment on the case: If not insane Miss Hoban is exceedingly eccentric and harbors strange hallucinations. She was still on the stand when adjournment was taken for the noon recess.

State's Attorney Robert Tilton of Morgan county was present to represent the state. Assistant State's Attorney Shurtliff of this city assisted him. Present also from Jacksonville were Dr. F. A. Norris, whom Miss Hoban charges conspired to place her in the sanitarium; Frank Leach, a wealthy banker, Dr. Edward Foley, assistant superintendent of the state hospital, Jacksonville; Dr. J. W. Hairgrove, who filed the petition alleging the woman to be insane; former Sheriff Walter B. Rogers of Morgan county; Dr. Edward Bove, Dr. W. H. Weirich and Dr. A. C. Kingsley, the latter a dentist, who are wanted as witnesses for the state; Edward Brennan, proprietor of the Pacific hotel in Jacksonville, at which Miss Hoban formerly was employed; George P. Davis, chief of police of Jacksonville to whom Miss Hoban complained of Dr. Norris, and John McCree, a cook at the Pacific hotel.

Dr. George Zeller, state alienist; Dr. Ralph Hinton, superintendent of the Peoria state hospital, and Dr. Clara E. Hayes, in charge of the receiving hospital at Bartonville, also were in court ready to testify.

Miss Hoban talked in sentences that at times were incoherent and other things that Dr. Norris and others conspired to place her in the asylum. She declared that inmates in the Jacksonville asylum were "poisoned and murdered" and that attendants "always were fighting the patients."

The young woman was examined first by Attorney Shurtliff after he told the court that it could be shown that the girl is not insane. She said she was 26 years old and had been in the asylum for three years. She was employed at the hospital of Our Savior in Jacksonville and at the Pacific hotel. She became acquainted with Norris at the hospital and also knew him at the hotel, where he roomed. She testified that she had had a "good deal of trouble" with Norris and that she sought a peace warrant for him. She had previously complained to the chief of police and to justices of the peace. Her inquiry led to her commitment to the asylum.

Nothing was brought out in her direct examination tending to show that Norris mistreated or wronged her.

On her cross examination by Assistant State's Attorney Shurtliff Miss Hoban showed much impatience and prodded the lawyer for asking her so many questions. Once when he asked her to repeat a statement she snapped: "I don't chew my tobacco twice."

Another time she said: "You are so green. I am sorry because you are so green."

Stables cautioned her against taking offense at the cross-examination.

Miss Hoban told the court that Norris was always spying on her; that when she went home he had an army of men watching her and that when she telephoned to persons he was plugged in on the wire by telephone girls.

She declared that physicians were full of corruption. She asserted that she didn't take "dope" like some of the physicians.

While she was arraigning the doctors, one young woman seated near by her parents and counsel applauded with her hands.

WANTED IN KENTUCKY.

Lucien Meadows of Kentucky, but lately employed on the F. M. Donlap farm, east of the city, was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Harry Norris. It is said that Meadows is wanted by the authorities of Somerset, Ky., for passing a worthless check in that city. He was last night locked up in jail to await the arrival of the southern officers. Meadows asserts that he will waive extradition and go willingly to Somerset.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks for the kindness shown us by the for the kindness shown us by the set bereavement; also for the sympathy expressed and for the floral tokens.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT.

A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years, so that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine, made from roots and herbs—nature's remedy for woman's ills.—Advertisement.

PRESENT MORE EVIDENCE TO JUSTIFY PROPOSED INCREASES

CHICAGO, April 5.—Western railroads presented more testimony at the interstate commerce commission hearing today to justify their proposed increases in freight rates on soft coal shipped between points west of and including Indiana and Illinois. They contended that while coal constituted a large part of their tonnage it failed at the present rates to return an adequate revenue. The proposed increase varying from 5 to 10 cents a ton would not place any appreciable burden on the public while it would increase their revenue by more than $1,000,000. Eugene MacAuliffe, general coal agent of the St. Louis & San Francisco road presented figures covering sixteen western coal carriers.

THE GERMAN WOUNDED.

Berlin, Feb. 6th. (By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)

The Germans are terrifically systematic about their care of the wounded. All their men found on the battlefield receive a "first aid dressing." Each is tagged with a card, which indicates whether he is badly hurt or not. From the battlefield the wounded men are gotten back to the field hospitals or to headquarters. A man may be badly wounded and yet be back on the firing line in three months. Good pure blood is what helps the soldier through—his wounds heal easily after antiseptic dressings. It is well for everybody to put the blood in good order. Don't trifle with health! Its too precious a possession.

It is trifling to neglect the little every-day kind of ailments. It is trifling too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anaemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (in tablet or liquid form) helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life. Fifty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid all the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the "Golden Medical Discovery" he then introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES

$3.00 PER YEAR

Less than One Cent a Day.

There are hundreds of people in this vicinity who have become accustomed to using a tin box in which to keep their valuables, who by using one of our SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES will find they are safer, strictly private and more satisfactory in every way. It requires two keys to unlock the box. The customer has one and the Bank the other, which is the master key. If you should lose your key, and some one else should find it, it would do them no good, because it would require the master key, which we hold before the box could be opened. There is no better or stronger vault in the United States, and the rate we pay on burglary insurance, which we carry, is the lowest in the country. Come in and let our vault clerk, Mr. Ewen I. Whitlock, explain.

Social Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson Pleasantly Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patterson were very pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when about forty neighbors and friends gathered at their home in Joy Prairie neighborhood. The evening was spent in playing games, in the egg eating contest prizes were won by Henry Pulman and Samuel Wood.

Refreshments brought by the self-invited guests were served, all left at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Patterson many years of happiness in their new home.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Briggman and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Dewese and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davidson and family, Mr. George Morris and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Middleton, Misses Edna and Lorraine Flynn, Mr. Erickson, Samuel Wood, Charles Burmeister, Roy Odaford and Henry Pulman.

Miss Agnes Farrell To Wed C. L. Dolan.

Easter morning at St. Bartholomew church at Murrayville, the approaching marriage of Miss Agnes Farrell to C. L. Dolan was announced.

Miss Farrell is an ambitious young woman of many accomplishments, and her retiring disposition has always secured for her a host of friends. Mr. Dolan is a farmer and accounted a young man of sterling worth.

They will reside on a farm near Murrayville.

Celebrates Two Birthdays Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Swain was hostess at a birthday dinner, given Sunday at the family home one-half mile south of Sinclair, in honor of her sons, Horace R. and Harold E. Swain. The guests enjoyed a delicious five-course dinner and departed with many congratulations for the guests of honor. Pink and white was used in the dining room and yellow and white in the reception room.

Miss Lucille Rexroat Hostess to Friends.

Miss Lucille Rexroat of Virginia entertained Sunday a company of friends of Illinois Woman's college and Theta Sigma society. The guests were Miss Anne Floreth and Miss Irene Merrill, Jacksonville; Miss Mary Baldrige, Miss Edna Robb and Miss May Bigger.

"LAND OF SUNRISE AND FLOWERS" AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Former Scott County Boy, Now Evangelist of Note, Heard in Beautifully Illustrated Address—The Passion Play Tonight.

The Rev. E. E. Violette of Kansas City, evangelist and traveler, was heard last evening at Central Christian church in a descriptive address entitled "Land of Sunrise and Flowers." As a speaker, Rev. Mr. Violette has few equals and his pictures, beautifully tinted and accurate in detail, made the "evening in Japan" a pleasant one indeed. It is rare that stereoscopic views of such quality have been seen in the city. Tonight Mr. Violette's subject will be the Passion Play at Oberammergau, of which he has the only official complete set in America.

The pictures shown were all painted by Japanese artists in Japan, secured in the course of several visits to the Island Empire. In the first group of pictures were shown the idols, temples, shrines, priesthood and religious relics. The second group illustrated the habits and customs of the people and the third showed the rice industry from preparation of the rice until the time when the article is consumed. In another group with courtship and marriage were shown on the screen. Mr. Violette showed the story of a Japanese marriage from the day when the matrimonial broker arranged the "match" to meeting to the night of the wedding feast. The climax of the pictures was a set of nature studies in which the speaker termed "the most fascinating land in the world."

Rev. Mr. Violette was born and reared in Scott County and is a self-made young man. His friends are glad to note of the place he fills in the world as a messenger of great truths.

REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSE AT CENTENARY M.E. CHURCH

The revival services which have been in progress at Centenary Methodist church during the past two weeks have come to a close. The results have been most gratifying, there having been twenty-three additions to the membership of the church last Sunday and eight others will be received into full membership in the near future. Since the meeting of conference in September there has been sixty-four added to the membership of the church.

The sermon Sunday evening was by the pastor, who chose for the subject of his remarks, "The Walk to Emmaus." The sermon was illustrated with quite a number of stereopticon slides and was most interesting and instructive. At the morning service Miss Nelle Seif sang a solo and in the evening Miss Clara Ranson. The church was appropriately decorated for the day's services.

MOUND SUNDAY SCHOOL GIVES EASTER ENTERTAINMENT

Exercises Were Largely Attended and the Children Acquitted Themselves in a Pleading Manner.

The Mound Sunday school, just west of the city, gave a very pleasant Easter entertainment Sunday afternoon. The school house was filled almost to the limit of its seating capacity and every one spoke well of the exercises. Much praise is due Miss Elsie Rapsilber for the success of the work. The children did exceptionally well in the motion songs and reflected credit to their trainers.

The program follows:

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Bicknell Young Speaks Before Large Audience.

A good sized audience gathered at the opera house Sunday afternoon to hear a lecture on Christian Science by Bicknell Young. The gentleman was introduced by William F. Widmayer and proceeded at length to explain the teachings of Mrs. Eddy in the subject. He asserted that in the nature of all beings there is that which responds to the teachings of Christian Science. Some of his leading themes were enlightenment not belief; no hope in old systems but Christian science is logical; the kingdom of heaven is natural; the truth is available and God and power are one.

Mrs. Eddy made a very great discovery. A woman whose thought was clear enough to perceive wonderful truths which were revealed to her as the founder of a far reaching religious and scientific movement; that she was inspired when she discovered and set forth the truths of Christian science.

"UNDER BLUE SKIES"

Play Given by Arenville High School at Chapin Well Received.
"Under Blue Skies" the play given Friday night at the Amuse-U theatre in Chapin by students of the Arenville high school was witnessed by an audience appreciative as well as large. The success of the event was a compliment to Mrs. Hazel Graham, primary teacher at the Arenville school and trainer of the cast. The Arenville orchestra which furnished music was composed of Mrs. Graham, piano; Roscoe G. Linder, violin; Edgar McElroy, cornet; Harold Weeks, clarinet and Ernest Weaver, trombone. "Clara Joyce" the part of the heroine, was taken by Miss Marie Frye and "Bruce McCullough," the hero's role, was played by Edgar McElroy. The other members of the cast were Verne Rexroat, Miss Imogene Hierman, Alfred Musch, Miss Irene Musch, Raymond Beard, Miss Bernice Lovekamp, Miss Mildred Beard, Miss Grace McElroy, Miss Flo Hierman, Miss Armetta Meyer, Chelsea Houston, Wier Hierman and Miss Elizabeth Bates.

TRAVELING MEN HEAR DISCOURSE ON CHALLENGE OF THE NEW AGE

Rev. M. L. Pontius Gives Annual Address to Members of U. C. T. and T. P. A. Sunday Morning at Central Christian Church.

"The Challenge of the New Age" was the theme of the Rev. M. L. Pontius Sunday morning, speaking to members of the United Commercial Travelers and the Travelers Protective Association, assembled for their annual sermon at Central Christian church. "Behold I make all things new," quoted the minister, Rev. 21:5, in announcing the theme of the morning.

"We are living in a new age," said the minister. "The inventions and discoveries of the 19th century have produced an age like unto none that have gone before. In this new age we have an individual rather than a social conscience. Altruism, 'philanthropy' and 'brotherhood' are terms seldom heard a decade or two ago. This is an age which challenges the intellect, a faculty which, properly developed, better enables the individual to serve himself, his fellow man and his God.

"The new age is a challenge to the social order. Whenever we find a few people in a community who believe that the remainder are moving in the wrong direction or are moving too slowly, we have at once a social problem. When ideas and ideals are uniform, no such problem exists. Many there are who think we are moving in the wrong direction with regard to charitable work. Charity without doubt has its place, though it may require the mind of a statesman and the heart of a hero to distribute charity funds so that injury to society or pauperization of the person helped may not result.

"The new age is a challenge to moral and religious stamina. On every hand is apparent the changed attitude of the traveling men toward questions religious and moral. Asceticism is not necessary for the life of true morality. That quality which exists only be ignorance of evil—that is not moral purity. Our object then is not to produce ascetics, but strong, righteous men, men who by their very presence will shame vice into silence."
